Cougar 1988

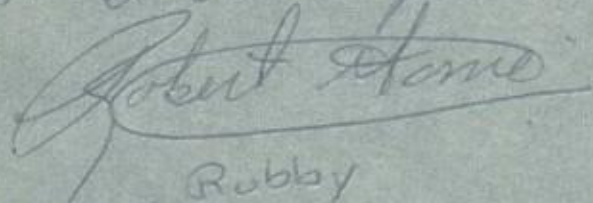

Juliana,

Have fun at an all girls boarding school. (I would.) It's been fun knowing you this year, you're a very interesting and nice person. Anyway, have a great summer. I hope you're here next year.

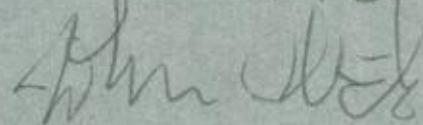

Love,

Beloved Julie you are my love.
you are all I live for. I really love you alot and because I love you I am not going to give it to you, you know what I am talking about. I love you

Robby

It's almost over for me
I don't have to stay after September 17th (it's my birthday so now you know you can't forget so give me something) that was an anything but subtle hint!

(John liked hi)

Juliana
 Glad I met you
 I almost lived for
 The break and the 5 minute break between
 2 and third period
 see you next year
 and have a great summer!

your friend
 Charles

Juliana -
 I'm saying that
 I'd like to do this nothing right now the

 Our first was great.
 Love always,
 your friend Jan

Hey you,
 you have the best looking eyes I've ever seen, I want them!
 Have a great summer,
 your friend
 Paul Page

Love Jason

It was great being in your class this year and I was glad to see you each day. I'm always impressed with your intelligence and I know you'll do well. You got a great sense of humor and a gorgeous smile which I will miss. Take care of yourself and I'll see you next year.

My sweet Juliana,

For some reason, the only thing I can think of right now is that one day during recess at Marin School when you & Laura got in a big fight & you kept telling me that I didn't have to be her ~~her~~ friend. Well, you've really changed a lot. See ya next year or during the summer. Love,

These days, youths have many concerns. Teenagers of the Eighties are much more aware of the world's going-on than teens of previous decades. We need to be, we shape the future.

Several years ago, the band Alphaville, from Germany, released the song Forever Young. A while later it hit America, and although it never became a smash hit, it had a great influence on the kids that heard it.

About a year ago, Forever Young was redone by Alphaville, and became popular again. Schools all over the Bay Area chose it as their Prom theme and it was played often on radio stations like KITS.

We, the staff of the COUGAR '88 have decided it would be an appropriate-and fun-theme for this year's yearbook. We hope this yearbook causes all of us to be remembered as . . .

FOREVER YOUNG!

THE INFORMER

The Informer is the school's newspaper. Its purpose is to "inform" students of what's going on around them. This year, The Informer is off to a new start. Karen Randlev, who joined Albany High's teaching staff this year, takes the retired Mrs. Woulf's position as the new advisor. Also new to The Informer is the Macintosh computer, which can essentially publish the whole issue alone. With the Macintosh, a lot of money on printing is saved and a lot of time is reduced.

The Informer staff meets everyday during first period. Each of the student reporters works under one of the editors. The editors' main job is to select ideas from the student reporters and to see that the ideas are turned into pages of work.

This year, The Informer is published more frequently, and it is open for subscriptions of five dollars a year. It is hopeful that these changes and the hard work of students will bring The Informer a new outlook.

TO THOSE WHO DON'T GET THANKED ENOUGH

As we go through our regular, day-to-day routines, we sometime take certain things . . . or certain people . . . for granted. These people, though we might fail to notice it, are important parts of our lives. We'd like to thank five specific people who are important to all of us at A.H.S.

Loretta Iacobetti, Adriana Matteucci, and Ivana Matteucci don't get paid a salary to feed hungry, pushy high school kids (us!), their salaries come from selling food. They've always been here to satisfy our chocolate cookie cravings or to warm ourselves with their hot chocolate on cold days!

Harold Manuel stays late at A.H.S., to clean up for night school, working through normal "dinner time." He makes up for the lost meal by preparing his gourmet dishes (his chicken 'n ribs are famous) in the old Home Ec. room, 132. He's always ready to give out a recipe.

And then there's Ray! To the average person, he might seem to be your basic-but VERY friendly-janitor, but we know better. The fact is, he graduated from A.H.S. in 1942 (he was a full linebacker in football), returning in '81 — nearly forty years later! In that amount of time he's accomplished an outstanding number of things. He's gone around the world (he says he's been nearly everywhere, though not China or Japan), lived in Italy for thirty years (yes, he's fluent in Italian), and even written two books (one is new and not published — as of the end of '87).

All of you brighten our days, and to that, we want to say . . . THANKS!!!

Adriana, Ivana, and Loretta.

Harold Manuel

Ray Parsons

THANKS!!!

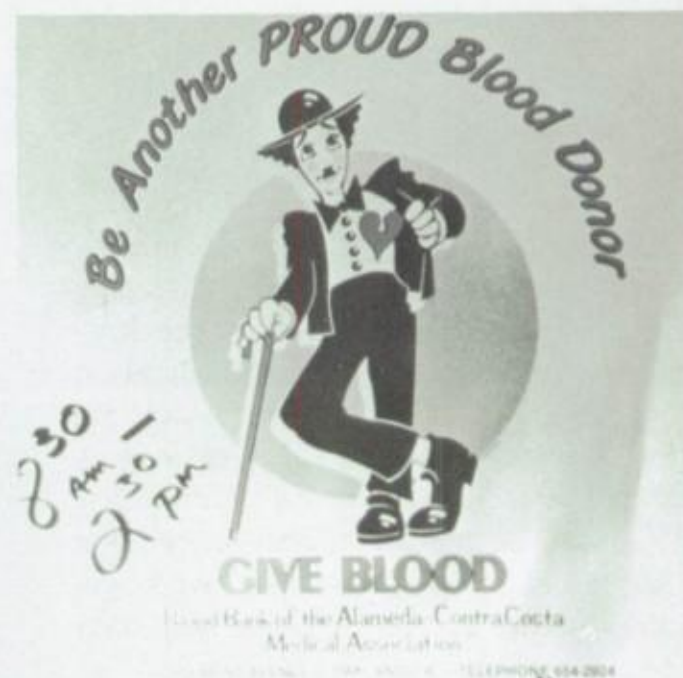

Let's start in style,
Let's dance for a while
Heaven can wait,
We're only watching the skies
Hoping for the best
But expecting the worst
Are you going to drop the bomb or not????

The Solano Stroll took place September thirteenth. People from Albany, Berkeley and more . . . came to this annual celebration. For friends and family Solano Stroll is a place to meet one another, watch the parade, eat a variety of foods offered by Solano's restaurants, browse through the shops, listen to live bands and dance. Most of all it's just a time to have fun and laugh. Solano Stroll is something the whole community participates in!

FOREVER GIVING . . .

This year Albany High hosted its 11th Annual Blood Drive. This year's drive wasn't as successful as the past years due to the interference of a lot of activities that took place during the same week. Fifty-five students (and a few teachers) donated blood this year giving 55 credits towards our school for any future needs. This year's credits will be given to the principal of Castro Elementary who has leukemia. Every year a handful of students join Mr. Fosselius in forming a standing committee to help recruit donors.

CLOSE UP '87

"Close Up: A Citizenship Experience in Washington, D.C. for High School Students." That's what the Close Up Foundation's pamphlet cover says.

Close Up has been going since 1971. The Foundation has brought more than 200,000 participants to Washington D.C. in that time. The program tries to help all people to understand the responsibilities and opportunities that U.S. citizenship holds.

Albany High School has been with Close Up for 12-15 of its sixteen years. Each year, one (or more if necessary) of AHS' History teachers goes with the group of students to Washington, D.C. This year Dave DeHart joined a group of ten kids: Shannon Askins, Sam Benson, Tom Benson, Neva Keret, Tanir Keret, Tracy Lohman, Angie Luna, Owen Nishioka, Meredith Winer, and Sean Yabusaki. "The kids this year were mature, fun, and I'd take them anywhere," says DeHart.

The eleven met early (5:30 am) on Sunday, October 25th at Oakland Airport. Upon arriving at the Twin Bridges Marriott Hotel, they registered and then got to unpack (or whatever else) before their first meal.

From that moment on, they were all on a tight schedule. There were workshops to attend, activities to participate in, and speakers to listen to. About 160 kids — from Arkansas, Florida, Illinois, Kansas, Massachusetts, Minnesota, North Carolina, Northern California, Tennessee, and Texas — packed on to four buses that took them everywhere they went for the entire week.

During the week, not only were there seminars — on such topics as the Judiciary, International Relations, Domestic Issues, and Lobbying — but the Close Up participants also got to meet their House Representative (ours is Ron Dellums), go to the Harlequin Dinner Theater (where they saw a production of "42nd Street"), and spend a day and a half in Colonial Williamsburg. The week came to an end on Friday, with six whole hours of "free time" to spend however they wanted to. That night was the "banquet" and dance (many chose to watch cable instead; Nightmare on Elm Street II was on).

Saturday, October 31st, the Albany High group was at Washington, D.C.'s National Airport before 6:00 am. They were back in the Bay Area by 11:15 am "... back to normal people!"

THE PLOT:

A boy, Frederick, was incorrectly indentured to a band of pirates when he was young, by his nurse, Ruth. Although he loathed his trade he felt duty-bound to stay with these pirates until his twenty-first birthday.

Ruth, who has loved Frederick all along, wishes to become his wife and Frederick agrees until one day he sees a girl he becomes quite taken with (Mabel). His indentures being over, Frederick denounces Ruth for Mabel and joins Mabel's father in the fight, Major-General Stanley, to extinguish piracy.

Ruth and the Pirate King want Frederick back so they trick Frederick into believing that since he was born on the leap year, he has truthfully only had five birthdays, so he is not really 21 years old. Dutifully Frederick immediately rejoins the pirates, warning them about Major-General Stanley's upcoming attack, whom they seize. The police come to the rescue, the pirates surrender and marry Major — General Stanley's wards (bevy of beauties), all of whom are beautiful.

The 1988 Albany High School production of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Pirates of Penzance" is a switch of musical style and genre from those productions presented here in the past ten years. "Pirates" is more closely related to Grand Opera than to the happy-go-lucky musicals that Albany High is used to performing. The audience was in for a big, but pleasing surprise on opening night. While some students were reluctant to let go of happy memories of cutesy, yet charming, 50's plays, other students welcomed the artistic and cultural challenges of the mild operetta that was chosen by A.H.S. administration and the Play Staff.

Larry Harada — "'Pirates of Penzance' represents a new aspect of growth within the Fine Arts Department. It brings a cultural experience that the students and community will benefit from."

Terry Larsen — "We hope to extend the limits of artistic experience for all involved. Our main goals are to educate and entertain. We hope you enjoyed our production as much as we have enjoyed presenting it to you."

Sandy Shafer — "The 'Pirates of Penzance' has audience appeal to both old and young, and for those involved in the performance, there is a rewarding experience in store. The music is straightforward, light and lively; the plot zany yet intellectually stimulating. Have fun with it!"

Nancy Hallamore — "I am hoping my contribution to the play will interest students in movement and performing, so that they might have as much fun as we had with 'pirates'!"

COUGAR FOLLIES

The annual talent show, Cougar Follies, was held this year on Thursday and Friday, the 19th and 20th of November. The show was filled with competent, well-practiced acts, with quite a few "non traditional" scenes, such as a rap about Jesus, a barber-shop quarter, and a band focused around a clarinet, John Ulrich and Co.

There were three piano pieces, excellently done by Ivy Chan, Nancy Wu, Miyoko Chu, and Kristie Chen.

"Beta, Beta, Uh" rapped intensely with audience participation, led by Jeremy Alpert. The two fly back-up dancers perfected the routine.

The dance groups this year were especially good, from the aerobic-type dance number, to Enchanté, who stole the show with their dance to "I'm Bad."

Semoine Sykes sang beautifully as always, and closed Friday's show with a huge round of applause. Many thanks to Mr. Larsen who spent so much time organizing this fund raiser for the Senior Class.

ADMINISTRATION AND . . .

Doctor John Ignacio was in many ways a freshman to Albany High the day school started this year because he had never seen our student body before. He soon did. He appeared everywhere, getting to know everyone. He was seen wandering the halls, clipboard in hand, and later rooting the Cougar football team on from the sidelines. He was constantly on the lookout for improvements that could be made, and always listened to everyone's suggestions or complaints.

Ignacio has many good things to say about the students at AHS. He is very impressed by the students' cooperation, and the courteous way in which they relate to their teachers. He feels that Albany's students have found a good level between work and play, and that a combination of the two is very healthy. He says that he likes people very much, and that he is enjoying getting to know the "Albany population."

COUNSELING

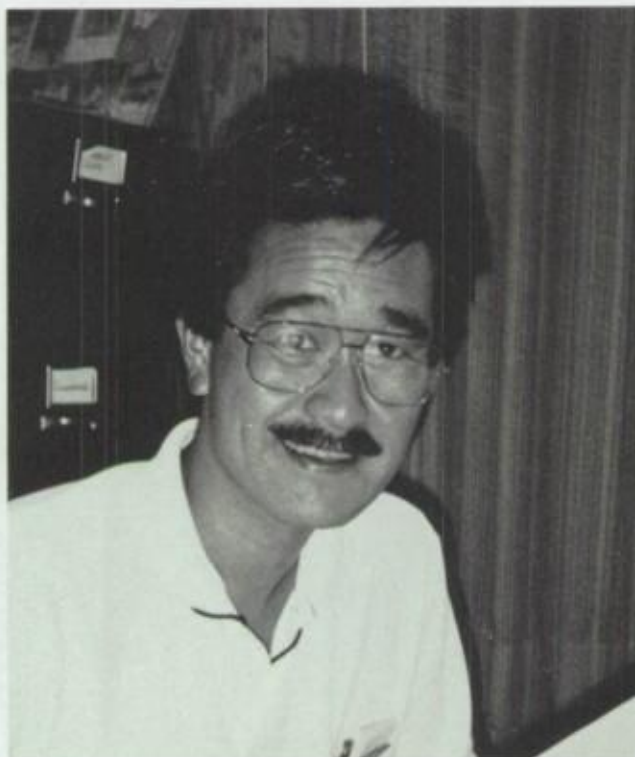

Last year Ralph Cantor joined the staff with his Student Assistance Program. He specializes in helping students deal with drug and alcohol problems.

His program has a two-part focus. One, he interviews students that need assistance, and second, he tries to help them prevent other problems from arising.

Cantor stresses the fact that everyone has a relationship with a chemical. His goal is to help as many students as possible to have high quality, drug free lives.

MATH AND . . .

An Albany grad returns! The newest Math and Science teacher is Mr. Bruce Downing, a real local boy! He was born in Berkeley, attended Marin School for a couple of months, and graduated from Albany High School. He then went on to get a degree in Math and Science from UC Berkeley. One anecdote that he remembers from his days as a student here is the time that he and the other young men were threatened with suspension for having "long" hair, that is, hair below the ears!

The great joy of his life is his family, his wife, his daughter, and his twins (one boy, one girl). He admits that they are a handful, but clearly loves them very much.

Albany High continues to have the excellent reputation it had when he graduated, he says, but he prefers being on the staff to being enrolled here! He feels that there is an excellence on the teaching staff that was, and still is, evident.

His words of wisdom to all students? "Don't grow up too fast, and be sure to enjoy youth!"

Ben shares the secrets of Calculus

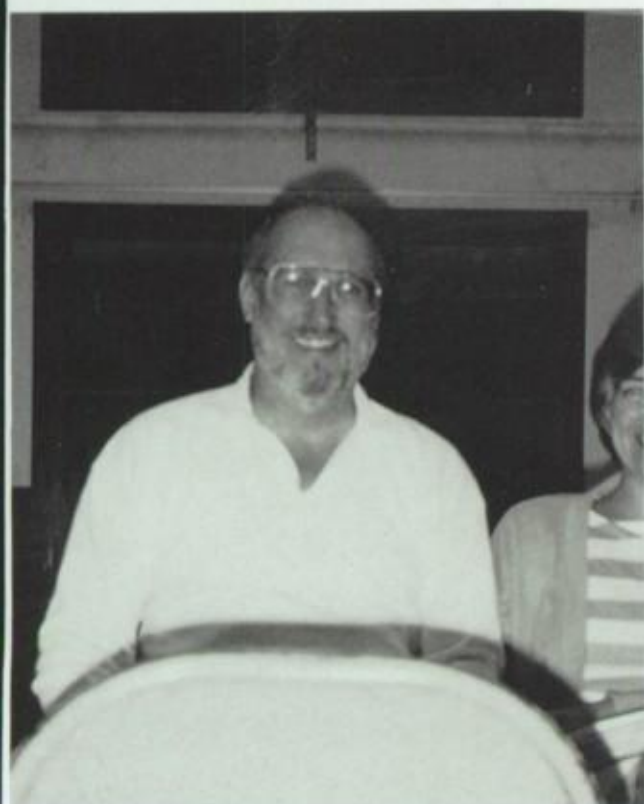

Last year Mr. Hoyle and his wife got on a plane, and moved to Lerwick, the Shetland Islands (200 miles Northeast of Scotland) in a teaching exchange program. He taught math to seventh and eighth graders, and lived in Mr. William Haig's house. Mr. Haig was an exchange teacher here last year.

Mr. Hoyle says he enjoyed the change very much, and found great differences between the students there, and those here. Everyone in the Islands is very self-disciplined, very reserved, and extremely shy, much more so than people here. He was able to get through the shyness to the kids he taught however, and he liked the fact that they were self-disciplined enough to do their homework, or whatever he asked them to do. This made the whole school system run more smoothly.

Hoyle feels that "experience builds education," and that this exchange was good for a change, although he and his wife are very glad to be home.

SCIENCE

For two weeks of the summer of 1987, our very own Gene Davis spent time in Africa. For the majority of the time, he was in Naivasha, Kenya. He went with a group called UREP, to study the behavior of Antelope, and how they keep each other free of tick born diseases.

While there, he saw all the things you'd expect from an African Safari, as well as a lot more.

His over all description of the trip was that it was very moving. He says that the thing he will most remember was hearing the noises of the hyenas and lions as he went to sleep at night.

ENGLISH AND . . .

She's the latest, and tallest addition to the English Department. Call her Randlev, Ms. Randlev. You may have seen her before at the Middle School, towering over the kids.

Karen Randlev is a published poet, with a degree in English from Cornell University. One of the more interesting experiences of her life was the time she spent teaching English (mostly poetry) in Alaska. Yet the highlight of her life is split between her love of writing, and her son, two things she couldn't live without.

Ms. Randlev admits that she likes to teach in part because she likes to be the center of attention, and says that one of her goals is to "help people to think."

All in all, she says that she likes being at the High school best because she can concentrate on English (not English-History), and she can treat her students with respect — that they deserve!

... FOREIGN LANGUAGE

Have you ever spent fifteen months away from home and friends? Voluntarily? Well last year Mrs. Reubman and her family did just that. Her daughter attended an international school in Lausanne, Switzerland, while she and her husband travelled around Europe.

Mrs. Reubman, or Madame Reubman to her students, feels that there is no other way to learn about other countries except to go there and experience them. She and her family loved it, though she reports that it was very hard to pack up a household for fifteen months! (only ten months were spent in Europe, the rest were spent at a farm they own in New York.)

The Reubmans visited almost every country in Western Europe, and also toured Hungary, Yugoslavia, and Greece, making frequent trips back to Switzerland however! Mrs. Reubman says that her French-speaking abilities have improved a lot, but that it was hard to come back to the classroom after such a great vacation!

SOCIAL STUDIES,

Dave De Hart is one of many teachers here at AHS that have attended UC Berkeley. A Burbank, California native, he came to Berkeley, and was quickly awakened to the world outside of his conservative High School. He found himself ignorant and uneducated about current events, the Vietnam War, and the radical protests of the times. This ignorance was one of the reasons he decided to become a teacher, so that students would be aware of the world, people and events around them.

De Hart is known for his field trips. He takes Juniors in his US History classes to the Oakland Museum, and to Alcatraz Island. His Seniors in US Government take a trip to Court in the Spring. This year he led a group of students on the Close-Up Program in Washington D.C.

P.E., AND THE ARTS

Mr. Sandy Shafer, commonly called "the Hepcat" by his students, is new this year to the Albany High School music scene. He comes to us from Castro Valley where he taught music to elementary school children. He says that he loves being here, teaching at the higher level.

Shafer has three goals for his program, and his students. The first thing he insists on is that all his students do a "bang up" job when they perform, not only so the program continues to look good, but so the kids have some pride in themselves, and their work. He maintains that if you work at something, you have to get results.

Secondly, he wants the students to come out of the program knowing something about music, the different periods, and what they like.

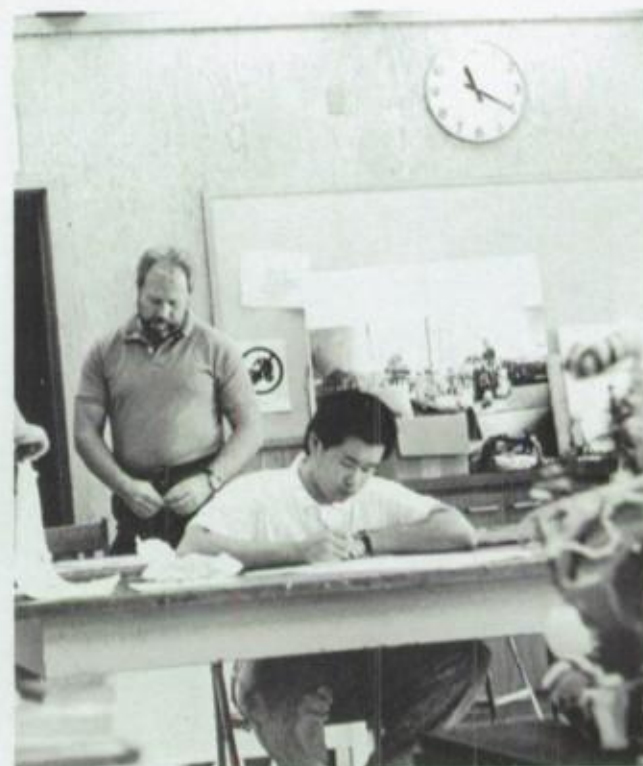

Last but not least, he hopes that everyone enjoys the music, as he enjoys it so much himself. He is really enthusiastic about the music he teaches, and about the students. He says that they are all very talented and hard working, and that his classes are a great learning experience, not just for the kids!

Terry Larsen
Choir

Terry Larsen has sung in many places all over the world. He has taught elementary music to children in Alaska, and is now at AHS to teach two periods of Choir.

He was a member of the choral ensemble called Chantecleer, a group of ten men who toured the world singing in cathedrals, local churches, and small towns. He continues to sing with the group today, whenever they are in town. He also has a part time job singing with the San Francisco Symphony.

He is enjoying being here at AHS, and living in California. He says that he sees and feels a lot of community support for the school and the kids, as well as a lot of spirit in everyone. "Choirs are my life," he says, and he would very much like to stay here and build up the choral arts department of the school to its full potential.

For now, Terry Larsen is looking for a "happy home life, and a place to keep a dog," and would like to continue to build the choral program at the High School.

BUSINESS, INDUSTRIAL ARTS,

This was John Thomsen's twenty-seventh year here, and he's still enjoying it! As he says, "If I didn't like it, I wouldn't stay!"

Thomsen teaches Photography, Print, and Drafting, and claims to have no favorite class. He's taught many classes over the years, here and in summer programs. Once he even taught basic math and english on an aircraft carrier!

He and his print classes are responsible for much of the printed material in the school district, and virtually all things printed for the school. They print the school newspaper, the Principal's newsletter, and run the Xerox machine for everyone.

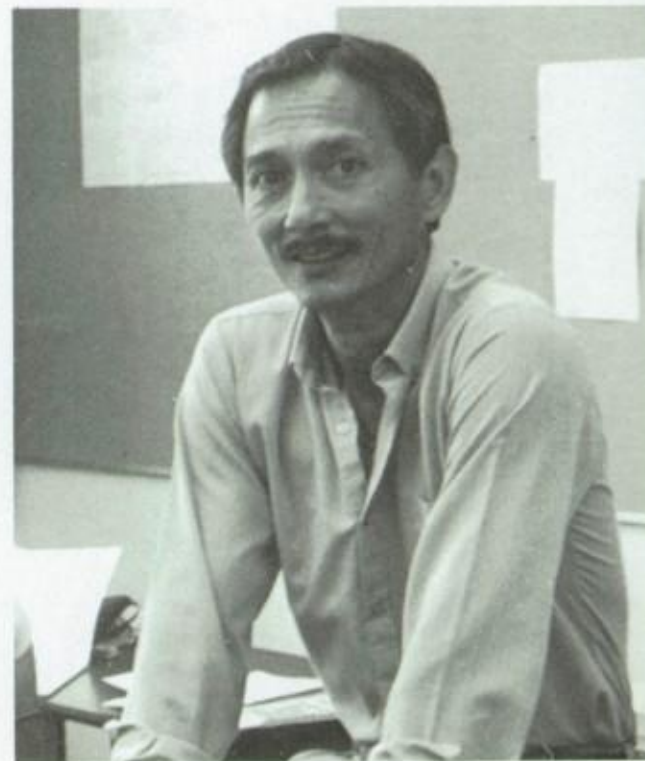

Friday afternoons find Thomsen rushing off to go sailing, and to forget the problems of the week, and relax!

SELF HELP, AND SOCIAL EDUCATION

A very familiar face around the school is Mrs. Mary Mortimer, who runs the Career Center.

She grew up in Canada, and graduated from UC Berkeley, obtaining a Master Degree in counseling at Hayward State.

The objective of the Career Center is to help students get ideas for, and make decisions about their careers. The Career Center is open to students in every grade, and offers things like computer surveys to see what careers suit your interests, and a library of career books and college catalogs.

Mrs. Mortimer really enjoys working with students, and helping kids find a direction or obtain a goal for developing their careers and their self-images.

The Board of Education, which meets twice a month, is a group of dedicated individuals working together to help smooth out the flaws in the Albany School District. Along with student representatives Julie Kim and Ryan MacArthur, they discuss new graduation requirements, and ways to spend the money received from the tax issue that passed last year. The meetings are all open to the public, and suggestions and ideas are always welcome.

AND STUDENT TEACHERS

These young, San Francisco State University students have been hanging around our halls and classrooms for a good reason. Someday they all hope to become credentialed teachers and get jobs in high schools around the Bay Area. But for now, they spend their time observing classrooms here at Albany High. They are interested in teaching such subjects as, English, History, and even Drama. Good luck to all the student teachers, and to whomever wishes to persue a teaching career as well.

SENIORS . . . THESE ARE THE

It was the toughest four years of our lives, and yet the best. It was our high school career. We all have memories, some good, some bad. Memories of English teachers, Chemistry tests, Hello dances, and football games . . . memories of gossip about everyone, love lives, and fights.

No matter what we have learned at Albany High, no matter where we go from here, the one thing we will always remember are the friendships we have made. At times our friends were the only thing that helped us make it through the rough spots. And then when things went well, our friends were there to share in the fun.

Together, we as a class helped each other through everything. We celebrated together when our class won Homecoming 1986, and we cried together at the loss of a classmate.

Our High School years are over, for better or for worse. We will now go out into the world strengthened by our education, and fortified by our friendships, friendships that will last forever.

Albany High's got style — lots of it! Some fashions are straight out of Vogue and GQ while others are the unique creations of the students themselves. Here's a look at a few of this year's styles:

A popular trend at Albany is to look sophisticated. Straight from the fashion halls of Europe to the halls of AHS, slim skirts, mini or otherwise, black stockings and brightly colored tops are the popular styles. Guys wear smooth looking outfits, such as turtlenecks with the same color slacks or sweaters over a polo shirt — still the old standard. Dress shoes are also a must.

The trendy scene has a new look for the '87-'88 school year. The miniskirt is still popular, as well as cropped knit pants, but the newest fashion is the turtleneck. Guys and girls both wear them under crewneck sweaters, cardigans, sweatshirts or rugby shirts. The look for guys is slacks or sweats, in light colors, worn with tennis shoes for the sporty look.

An increasing number of people are abandoning the more typical trendy fashions and making their own. Anything goes, and you can count on seeing a wide selection of styles, from many different decades of fashion. Black is a prevalent color in every fashion group this year, but that trend may have originated here in these fashions, as you can always count on seeing lots of people wearing black stockings. Perhaps some of these styles will be tomorrow's trends.

Fashion is ... "... what you wear, style is what you make of it. Style is the factor that allows twenty people to wear the same fashion — the same sweater, but still all look individual."

— Joanie Albee

Fashion is ... "... a song by David Bowie!"

— Leslie Hall

Fashion is ... "... uh ... expression ...?"

— Kelina Lobo

Athletes come in many shapes, sizes, and outfits this year. Whether they're sportin' their sweatshirts, letterman's or cheerleader's jackets, or just looking tough in their own sporty (?) clothes, you can spot them a mile away. Albany sports are sure to be well represented in the halls, and on a wide variety of people.

Jackets are a big hit this year — jackets of any style. They can be found adorned with various buttons (or medals) or not, showing the jacket's natural creativity. Levi's will never go out of style, and can be worn with just about anything. This group represents another "special" style, with fashions as varied as the individuals who wear them.

An impressive trend of fresh jackets, gold chains, rings, hi or low-topped tennis shoes, and an occasional tasseled ski cap returns to school this term, in full force. Troop, a new brand of clothes, is increasingly popular, but Adidas and Fila never go out of style. New this year are the ornate, thickly padded sweatshirts with just about any emblem on them. A twist to the jewelry fad is the popularity of silver chains, sometimes up to an inch thick, seen more and more around school.

There are many similarities throughout the different fashion groups at AHS. Jackets (many leather), the color black, turtlenecks, sweats, and hi-tops (Reebok or Converse) are all the newest trends, and are seen on just about everyone.

Guys generally have their hair cut short (with some exceptions) in flat tops or crew cuts. For girls however, the trend is long wavy hair that can be pulled back in a braid, or put into the latest hair clips. Boots are beginning to make a comeback, in both long and short styles, but nothing will ever replace the popularity of comfortable, worn, tennis shoes!

Whatever your fashion is, you've got style! Congratulations Albany High, you're one in a million!

WHAT HAPPENED?

The past year has brought us many anniversaries, many sad farewells, some juicy scandals, lots of laughter, and our share of tears.

With 1987 came the 200th birthday of the Constitution of the United States. Accompanying the varied celebrations were reflections upon the long-lived document.

Federal District Court Judge Robert Bork was the first to be nominated for the vacancy on the Supreme Court of the United States. Along with his rejection went the rejection of the idea of interpreting the Constitution according to the intent of its authors.

Smoking marijuana, a typical 1960's pastime, led to the defeat of President Reagan's next nominee, Robert Ginsberg.

Finally the Republicans received the conservative justice they wanted, with the confirmation of Anthony Kennedy.

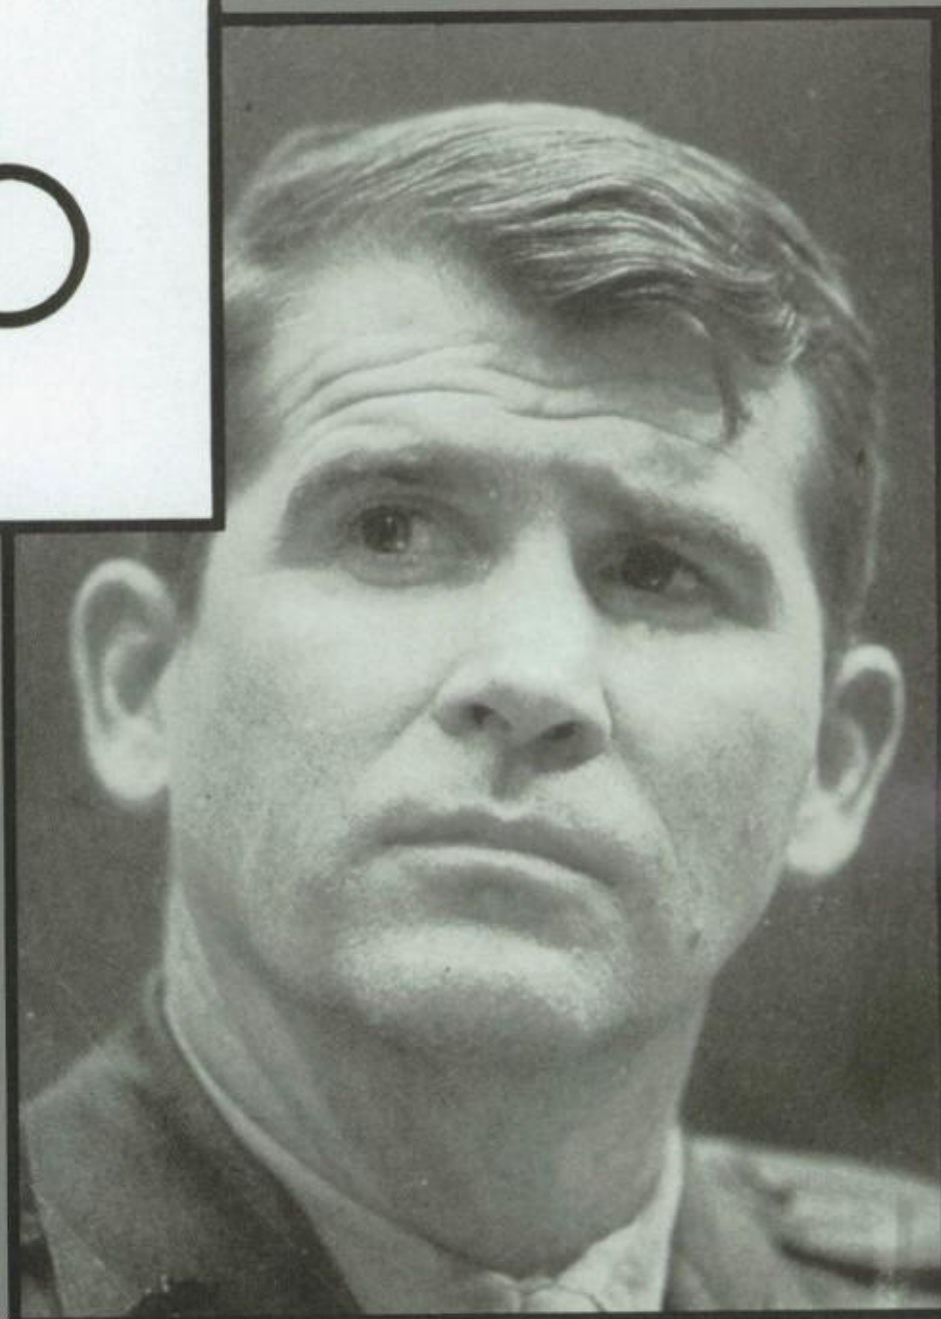

The new court will be deciding important cases like the right of women to abortion, and capital punishment.

Some historic cases were decided this year. Smoking was banned in public places, the speed limit was raised to 65 mph on rural interstate highways, surrogate motherhood was dealt a severe blow by the Baby M ruling, and, closest to home, the Supreme Court ruled that school newspapers could be censored by the administration, taking away much of their freedom of speech. Luckily, our California schools are protected by a state law, and not affected.

Congressional hearings were held this year to determine the facts and blame for the Iran-Contra scandal. Twenty-nine people testified, and the final report concluded that Reagan administration officials broke at least four laws, violating basic principles of the Constitution. It is not clear whether President Reagan and Vice President Bush knew of the diversion of funds to the Contras. However, Oliver North, John Poindexter, and Robert McFarlane were faulted with at least covering up illegal activities, if not perpetrating some as well. Formal charges have not yet been brought against anyone, but the Independent Prosecutor's investigation continues.

The war in the Middle East continued as US foreign policy remained unclear. The United States publically supported Iraq, and privately sold arms to Iran. We reflagged Kuwaiti ships and escorted them through the Persian Gulf while under attack from both sides. Meanwhile, pro-Iranian gunmen kidnapped an American Marine, who was a member of a United Nations peacekeeping force.

The United States was not the only government to have problems. South Africa clamped down even harder with censorship and violence against groups opposed to the oppressive system of Apartheid, while the Palestinians continued to struggle for self-determination in the West Bank and the Gaza Strip. South Korean students protested against undemocratic policies in their country. Many world athletes were uneasy, looking forward to the Summer Olympics that will be held in Seoul.

The Winter Olympics were held in Calgary, Alberta, Canada this February. There were a few incredible medal-winning performances by individuals, but the overall US team did not do as well as we all would have liked.

Even the governments of the United States and the USSR joined in the feeling of cooperation and peace, signing an arms treaty to reduce the amount of short-range nuclear weapons. This was memorable as not only the first of such treaties, but as another step towards peace.

General Secretary Mikhail Gorbachev has made incredible changes in the policies of his party, stressing 'glasnost' (open ness) and perestroika (restructuring) as well as better relations with other nations.

Another arms treaty is being discussed, perhaps to be signed sometime mid-1988.

The campaigning began in earnest in 1987 for the Presidency race of '88. VP Bush is trying to bask in President Reagan's popularity, meanwhile trying to avoid blame for any problem associated with his administration. Gary Hart had perhaps the greatest chance for the Democratic nomination, until he spent a weekend on board the "Monkey Business" with Donna Rice. Joe Biden was the next hopeful to drop out after illegally plagiarising many famous people.

Perhaps the strangest candidate running in the primaries was former TV evangelist Pat Robertson, who once claimed he moved a storm away that threatened the Atlantic coast. Democrat Bruce Babbitt and Republican Pete DuPont dropped out early.

Concern for the increasing number of homeless was an important issue this year. Some famous people even began to support this cause. Two other people that had a housing problem were the Bakkers. After Tammy disclosed a problem with drugs, and Jim slept with Jessica Hahn, the PTL cut their salary and forced them out of their lavish real estate holdings.

Other TV evangelists Oral Roberts and Jimmy Swaggart had their own problems. Roberts pleaded for money from his supporters so the Lord wouldn't "call him home." Swaggart unexpectedly admitted to "sexual sins," quite a contradiction to what he preached to the television audience.

The US got a truly holy visitor when the Pope toured the States, blessing people everywhere, and making a much publicized visit to a church filled with AIDS patients.

The AIDS epidemic did nothing but worsen this year, as no new cure was found, and the numbers of those infected rose. The disease is no longer confined to the gay community.

As a result, there has been a great emphasis on the use of condoms. Not only was there a great call for more sexual education in schools, but many Universities have installed condom dispensers to promote their use.

And then . . . George Michael sings "I Want Your Sex" while Glenn Close challenged the notion of a "safe" affair in the movie "Fatal Attraction." All of this is an indication of our awareness, as a society, of our own sexuality.

In the past year we've celebrated things like the Golden Gate Bridge's 50th birthday, we've said good-bye to the likes of Fred Astaire, we've lost a bit of our security as the Dow Jones dropped 508 points (the greatest drop ever), and we've cheered the efforts of all nations towards a common goal: peace. It's been an interesting year.

THE UPS AND DOWNS OF '87-'88

"Every day it's a gettin' closer, goin' faster than a roller coaster

Albany High has been on a roller coaster this past year. We've been up, and we've been down. There have been good times, bad times, and times when we couldn't tell the difference. All of these times comprise the 53rd year of Albany High, a year of changes, and a year of learning — in more ways than one.

The first days of school were very interesting. We examined the new principal, Dr. Ignacio, and rebelled to the changes he proposed — and eventually made. Break was closed, without our blessings. Stricter rules concerning cuts and absences did not please us either, and we spent an hour in detention for every absence we did not have excused. It was quite a change from the carefree atmosphere of the previous year, but the administration is pleased with the way teachers are now able to devote their full time to teaching, not having to deal with the disciplinary measures.

We all laughed and cheered together when, after three years of winning league championships, the AHS Volleyball team won league, North Coast sectionals, and went to state finals. Wrestling also continued its winning tradition by taking league for the third year in a row. They all had a great season, and we had lots of fun cheering them on!

Let us not forget the many tears we shed over the deaths of our beloved friends, Michael Nagle and Eric Volz. They were sad days when we all sat gathered together, sharing memories, and Kleenex. We learned a lot about each other, and the fragile lives we lead as we sat together talking. We learned that we all need support and love, and just how much that friendly smile in the hall can mean to someone you might not even know. Mike and Eric both touched our lives, even if we hadn't ever met them, showing us the meaning of togetherness and the common bond that unites us regardless of personal differences.

Homecoming followed on the heels of the first tragedy, and was somewhat overshadowed by our grief. Spirit Week was almost non-existent, and to try to make up for this, the ASG sponsored another one in the spring. Albany High does have spirit, is just hidden.

One thing AHS has that is not hidden in any way is talent. There were lots of talent shows this year: Cougar Follies, Junior Aid, music concerts, the musical, and every impromptu show someone might give in the courtyard at any time.

We all had a lot of fun this year at the Prom. It was held at the St. Francis in San Francisco. The theme was "Forever Young" by Alphaville. This tied the year together well with the theme of the yearbook, and the feeling the song evokes: that of youth and friendship.

Dr. Ignacio has many plans for next year. He hopes to get the school still better organized and running even more smoothly. He would also like to build a dance and drama program, as well as enhancing the artistic and musical departments. He has high hopes for smaller class sizes in the future, something that is sure to help the students.

Everyone stresses what a good school AHS is, and what a great staff we have. This dedication to teaching excellence is unlikely.

It's been quite a year. We've learned more than an ordinary school can hope to teach us, more than we ever meant to learn. We've learned about life, about ourselves, and about each other. It is a lesson, and they are memories that we will never forget.

Exchange Students of '88 Stand Out!!

This year AHS was lucky to have a very diverse and interesting group of exchange students from around the world. They all had in common the desire to learn and speak English fluently and at the same time get a little taste of American Culture. All of the exchange students came here by different means. Some through the American Field Service (AFS), others through Youth for Understanding, temporary family employment, and one or two independently.

Mohammad Javed Abdali (not pictured) came here from Karachi, Pakistan after living in Idaho for a year. He is Moslem.

DENNIS AND SANTIAGO

and speaks seven different languages. Javed says he comes from a "modern" family — which to us is the equivalent of a 50's "Leave it to Beaver" family. He says that his family doesn't believe in many customs (for ex: pre-arranged marriages, traditional dress) but still has to follow them because of set limitations by their religion and government.

Dennis Senuma came from South Africa, there he is very active in the anti-apartheid movement. His coming to America was a dream come true, to him it was a chance at freedom, a better living, and the right to do or say whatever he wants. Dennis' native language is Zulu.

ANNETTE

He hopes to come back to the U.S. to continue his studies.

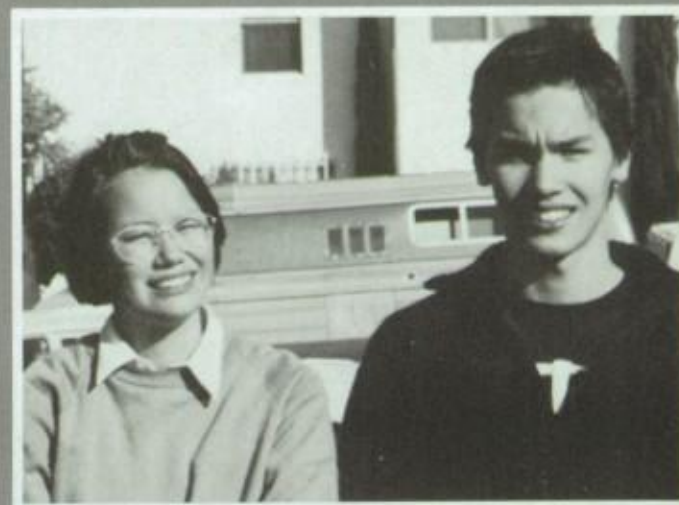

Santiago Martin is from Seville, Spain. Santi came to America to learn its language and culture. He liked best the way American schools are the center of all youth activities such as sports, clubs etc., unlike the schools in Spain.

This year we had at least three German exchange students. Alex and Yuki Zerdick and Annette Kappler. Both Alex and Yuki had an easy time of it during their stay. Neither of them were required to take classes during their visit here. Both Annette and Yuki thought of all Americans as having long blond hair. Both found teachers here very helpful, friendly and funny. They both were hesitant to talk about their ideas and/or opinions of America and Americans except in German.

David Gravell is from Canada, he speaks French and is working on his English. David is very active in weight lifting: he played on the AHS Varsity football and soccer team.

Guido is also from Spain and is living here for a year with his brother. He likes fast cars, motor-cycles, and socializing. Guido misses his mother's cooking and the night life in Spain.

YUKI AND ALEX

GUIDO AND DAVID

Pedro is from Argentina. His father is a farmer and mayor of his hometown. During his stay Pedro was also on the football and soccer team. After school we worked in an Argentinian restaurant in Berkeley. Pedro plans on going back to Argentina and studying law.

The exchange students of '88 stood out this year. They were an unusually large group, outgoing and active in school life. They definitely contributed to making this past year an interesting one!

NERD: dressed up or not?

"What the h--- is

S-P-I-R-I-T SPIRIT!

This year, A.H.S. Spirit Week began on Monday, October 19th and continued through until Friday, October 23rd. The Homecoming theme was "beach."

Monday was to be Pajama Day but more than half of the school went to the funeral mass for Mike Nagle. Consequently, Tuesday was not only Twin/50's Day, but Pajama/Baby Day, too. Wednesday everyone dressed as either a nerd or a jock; Thursday was Beach/Tacky Tourist Day; and the week ended with Red-'n-White/Shades Day.

As for activities, Tuesday was the president jello eating contest. Each class president tries to eat as much jello as possible. The thing is, it's not just jello . . . it's all sorts of things! This year's junior class won it! Wednesday had two simultaneous events: a rap contest (which the freshmen won), and the senior powder puff football game (girls vs. guys). Thursday was food day, all the clubs sold various delicacies (milkshakes, shish-kababs, pizza, nachos, etc.) which were eaten while listening to students' bands played. Friday had the Homecoming Rally, after which everyone prepared for the parade and game.

The class of '89 the juniors won overall, having won the hall and yard decorations and the float. The seniors got 2nd place (overall), the sophomores third place and the freshmen — of course — were last!

Nothing COULD RAIN

Homecoming day finally dawned, bringing with it a light drizzle and the gloomy prospects of a cancelled parade. Throughout the anxious morning, Mother Nature toyed with us by producing occasional bursts of glorious sunlight, that, amid sighs, were soon replaced by the standard dark clouds. Parade time rolled by and the restless students crowded around their respective floats to help send their class candidates on their merry ways. Ignoring the ominous clouds that were gathering in the sky, and chanting the old Albany cheers, A.H.S. fans marched the familiar route up Portland, right on Sante Fe, down Solano to Key Route, then finally to Cougar Field.

ON OUR PARADE

At half-time, (and between showers), the class floats were driven around the muddy track to be presented to the judges. After much deliberation, the results came through with the Juniors of '89 taking first place, Seniors of '88 taking second, Sophomores of '90 scraping by with third place, and the freshmen of 91 brought up the rear with last place.

When students were asked to describe their float, the results were amusingly vague:

"A pina colada wearing sunglasses" — Ian Hocking, Senior

"A big tropical drink — or maybe a fruit punch.

Whatever." — Nicole Chu, Senior

"I don't remember our float. It was something."

— Benjy Brown, Junior

"A little sun and a . . . I don't know" Rachel Hirschcock, Junior

"Uhh, I don't know" — Scott Turtle, Junior

"A surfing thing" — Ryan Lewis, Sophomore

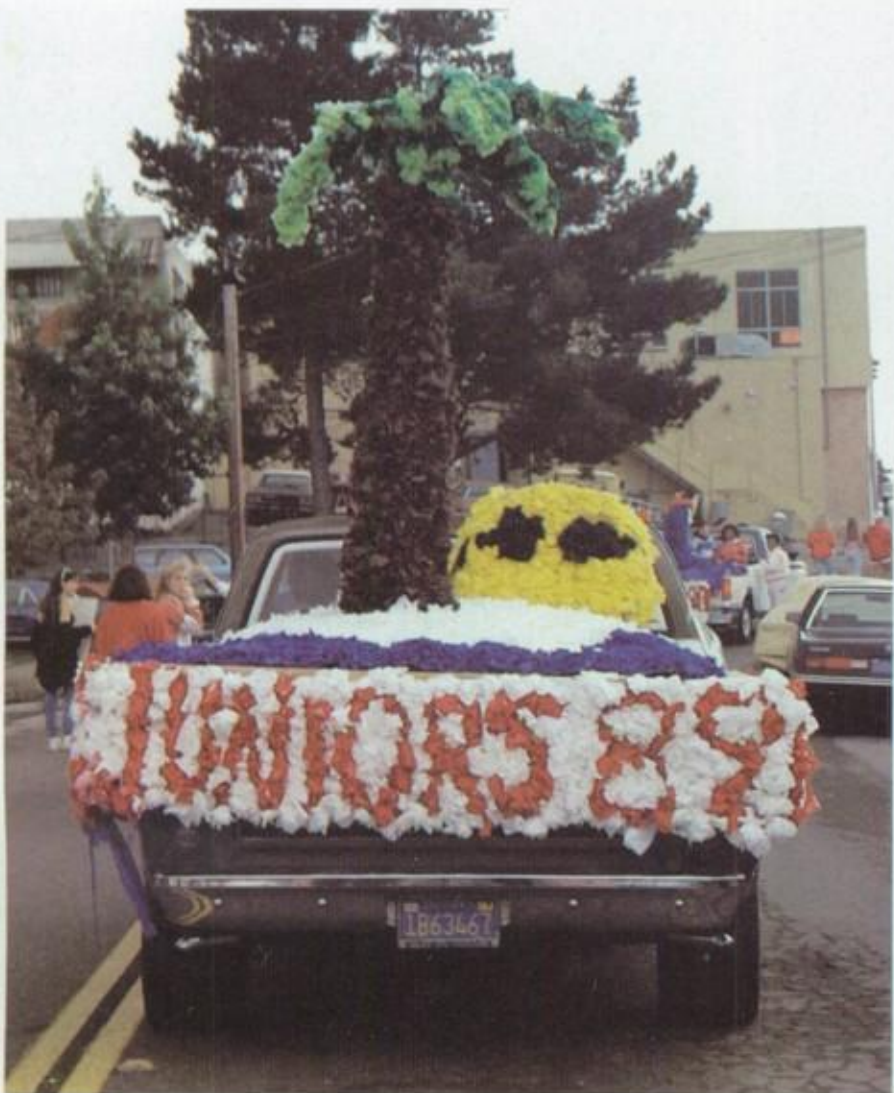

"G.I. Joe on a surfboard on top of a flat wave" —

Seith Weiman, sophomore

"A bottle. It had to do with the beach" — Chris Hill, freshman

"Abstract art." — Tim Krone, freshman

"A barrel." — Leon Orkin, freshman

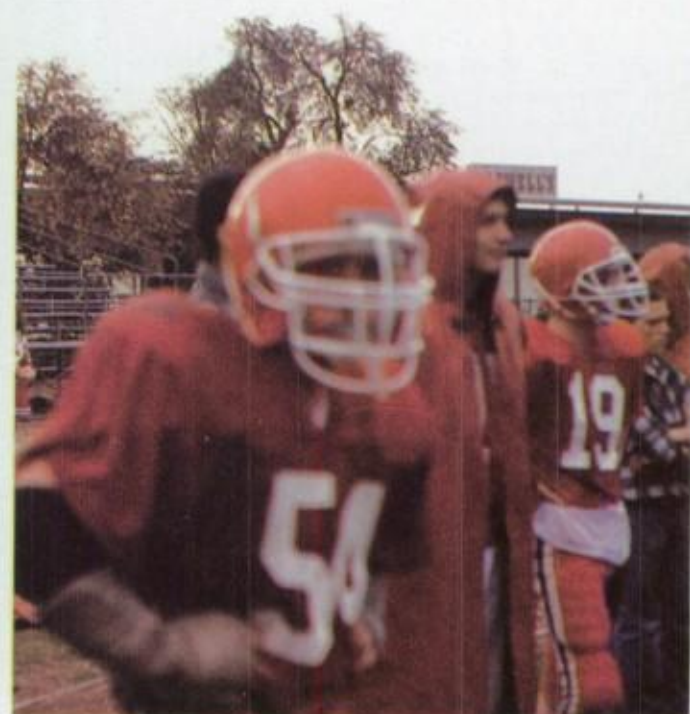

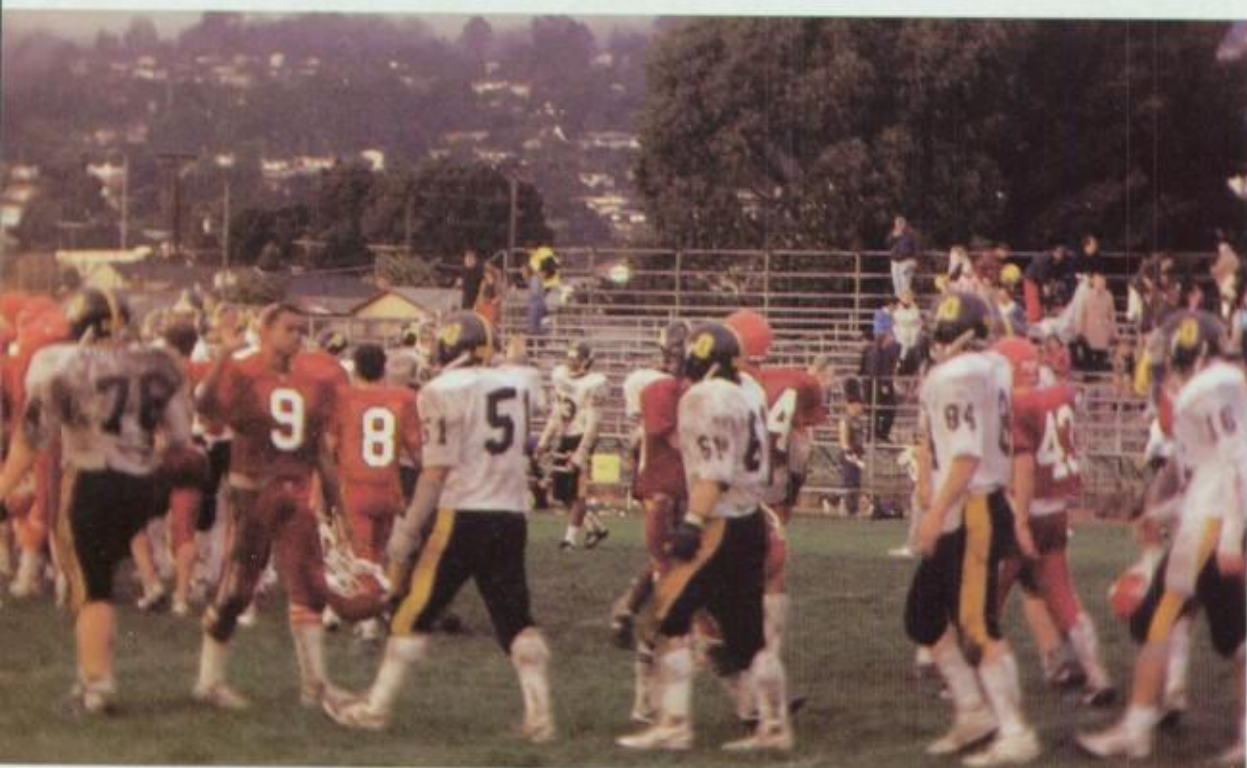

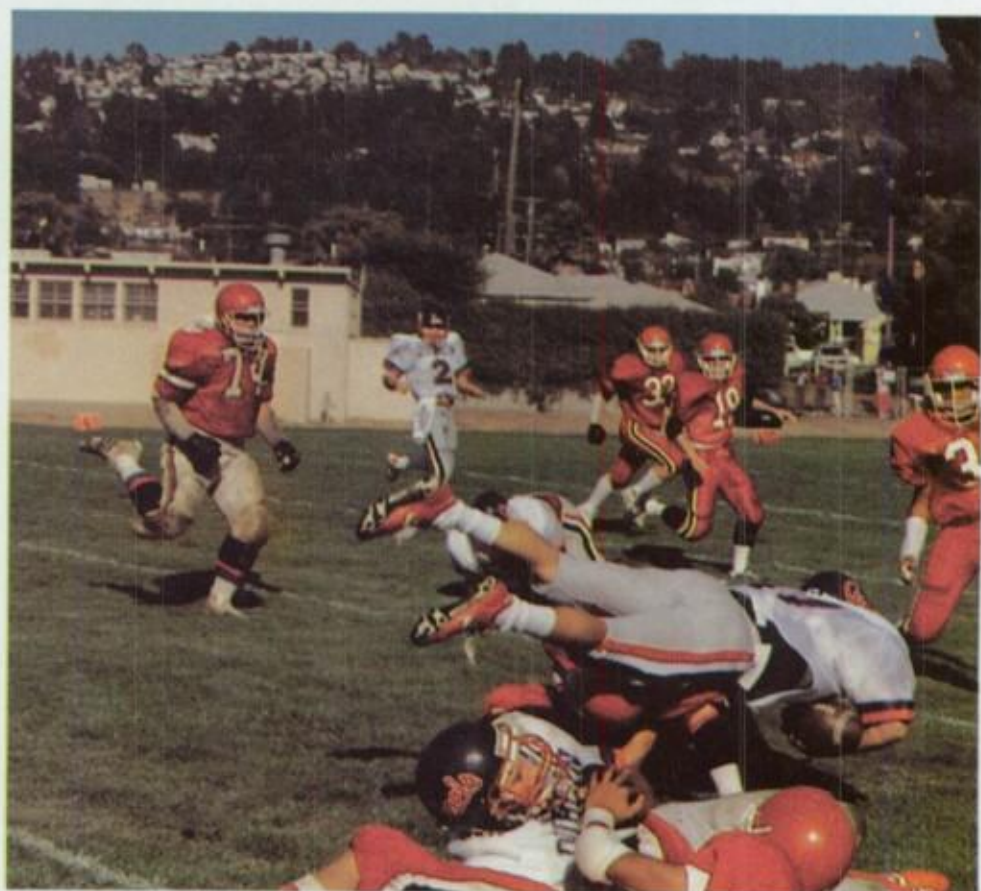

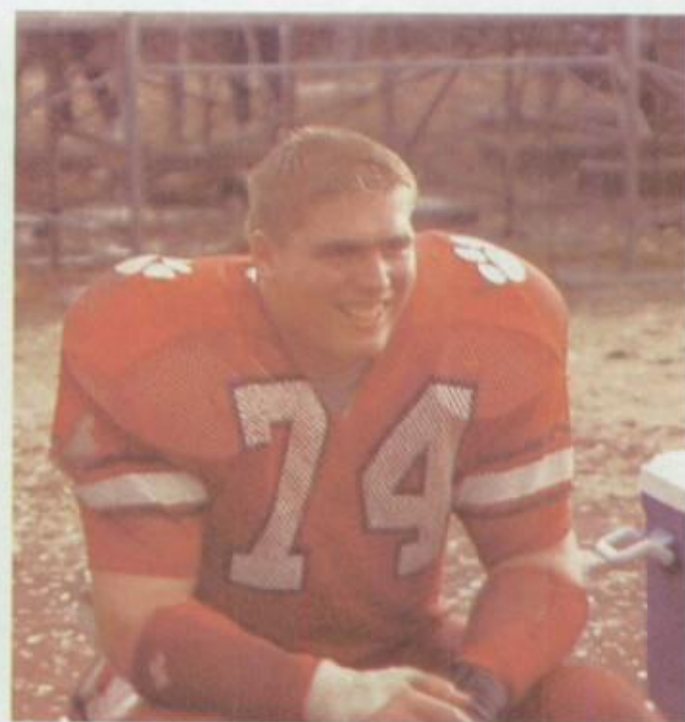

By no doubt the most fun and cheerful game of the entire football season is the Homecoming game. After the parade all the students of Albany High gathered at Cougar Field for the Homecoming game against Bishop O Dowd.

During half the audience in the stands had their traditional confetti fight where the audience in the stands throws bags of confetti. During half time all the floats from each class circled around the track, being judged for the quality of their floats.

Unfortunately the sun left the game and in came the pouring rains. That caused a great portion of the crowd to leave. Even with the rains and decrease in the audience, the cheerleaders still continued to cheer their little hearts out and the football team continued to play their best.

FOREVER ROYAL,

This year's Homecoming Dance was truly a night for reminiscing. Sponsored by the Juniors (Class of '89), the dance raised nearly $1,000.00, all of which will go towards the Junior/Senior Prom.

Breaking the traditional taboo that seems to envelope Albany dances labeling them "boring," "stupid," and "lame," this particular dance proved to be very lively, entertaining and definitely crowded.

The Homecoming dance was and will continue to be the only dance to be held in our auditorium this year. Wishing to preserve its exceptionally polished surface, future dances will be banished to the Veteran's Memorial Building in Memorial Park. The only reason this exception was made for Homecoming was because the Veteran's Memorial doesn't have enough space for people to watch the coronation and traditional slow dance, led this year by King and Queen Sam Benson and Gabriella Rigg.

A special twist that was the idea of Meredith Winer was the fact that the Homecoming couple of 1987, Don Turtle and Penelope Lackey, came back to Albany High to personally relinquish their tiara and robe to the upcoming couple.

Even the most strict critic will admit that this was definitely a night to enjoy and remember... forever!

Uh — Oh almost forgot! Ali Reza Zurain was born in Iran than moved to and grew up in Kuwait. The biggest difference he finds here is the freedom teenagers have. The rigid government in Kuwait makes everyone wear uniforms, keep short haircuts, and drinking is absolutely illegal; due to their religion. Many of us will miss Ali's friendly open smile and outgoing personality.

Melanie and friends in Class of '88: Happiness and good fortune are there, If you set your sights to care. Congratulations the Linebaugh Family

Congratulations and love to our first wonderful grandchild, Rachel.

Hail to the Queen Gabriella! Congratulations, We Love You,
Mom and Dad. Fina and Paul Rigg. Tiki loves you too!

To: Paul Rago, Sophomore Class President
For Homecoming you did slave, yet, only a few knew it was a wave.
Then came Spring Break, a trip you would take.
Ten days in Paris, France; what a fantastic experience.
Don't forget Saturday nights at Bingo, by June you'll have learned the "lingo"
Hod dogs, chili and nachos please; Paul, you did it all with ease.
Your Sophomore year was good, I'm not "jivin," and with luck in September you'll be "drivin."
Congratulations, Love Mom and Dad

SERVICE CLUB

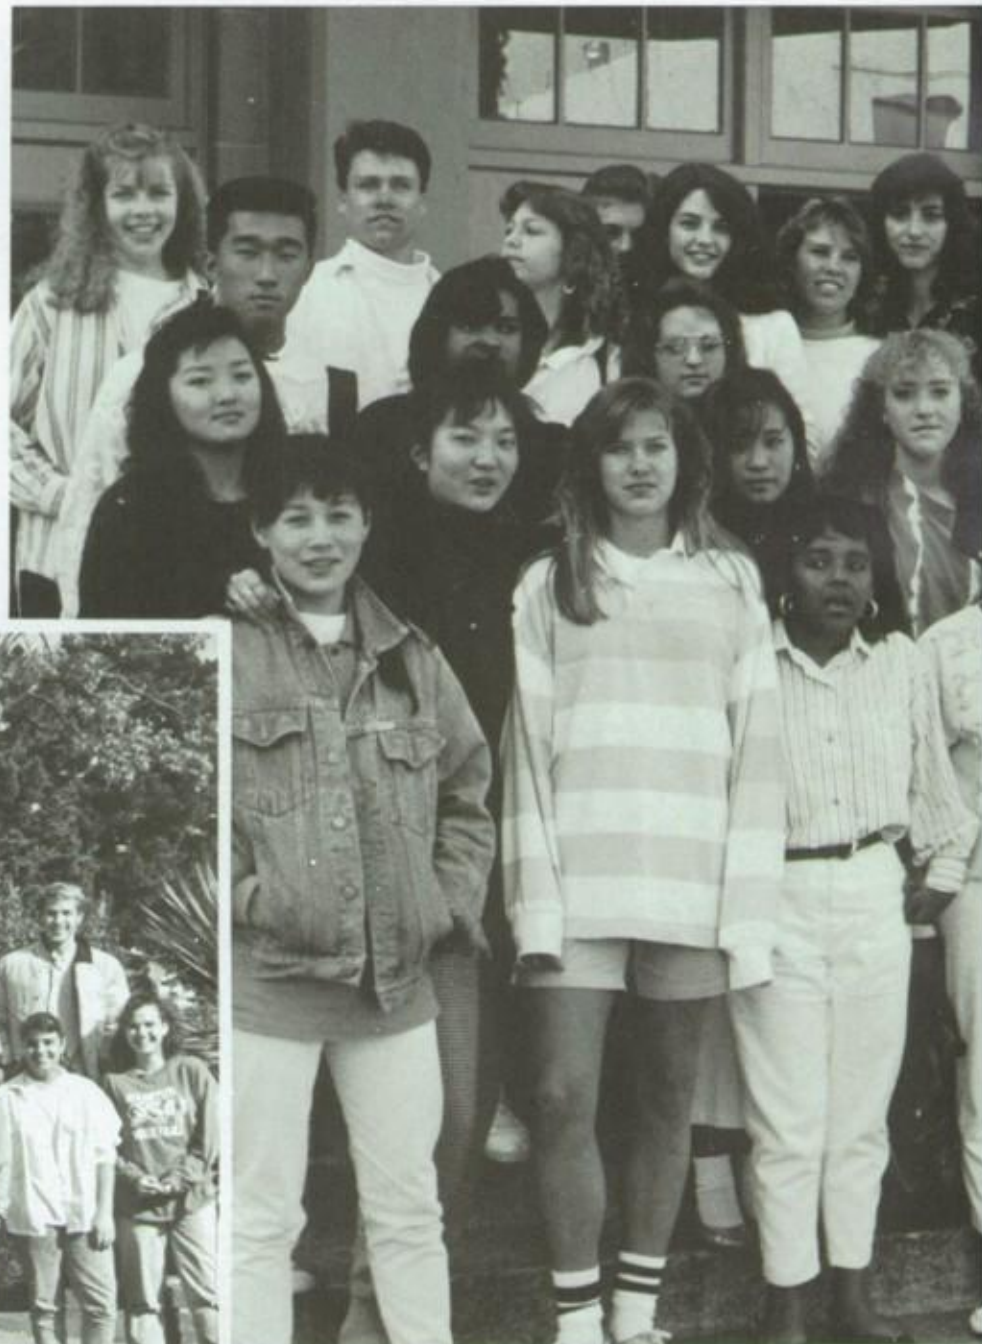

Members: President — Angel Kuo, Vice President — Esther Bae, Sec./Treas. — Hae Won Pak, Alex Tsai, Mike Ellery, Seth Weiman, Lily Quach, Lilia Rosas, Caroline Hoffman, Carey Rosenbaum, Shanta Frantz, Cindy Wun, Isabelle Rogin, Nella Cutolo, Minh Lee, Vicki Hughes, Allison Harada, Eva Hui, Christina Rose, Jessica Hill, Janet Lee, Yu-Jin Ahn, Deborah Yamasaki, Oranus Pahlavan, Sally Peterson, Aman Panu, Celina Avalos, Annie Wu, Wendy Huang, Anny Lockey, Terri Madero, Jennell Provost.

This year's Big Sister Club consists of 34 Junior girls and guys. Early in November, every two Big Sisters were paired up with an eighth grade Little Sister from the Middle School. The Juniors, as a group, take their little sisters on outings to High School basketball and softball games, talent shows, and sometimes out to ice cream afterwards. The Big Sisters are encouraged to call their little sisters outside of group get togethers, talk with them and hopefully develop a friendship that will help them as incoming freshmen.

As Big Sisters, this group of 34 are trying to earn points so they can advance to Senior Girls' Honorary next year and participate in their annual Ski Trip. Money and points are earned through bake sales on food days. In keeping with the new tradition started by last year's Senior guys, at least one-fifth of this year's Big Sisters are actually Big Brothers.

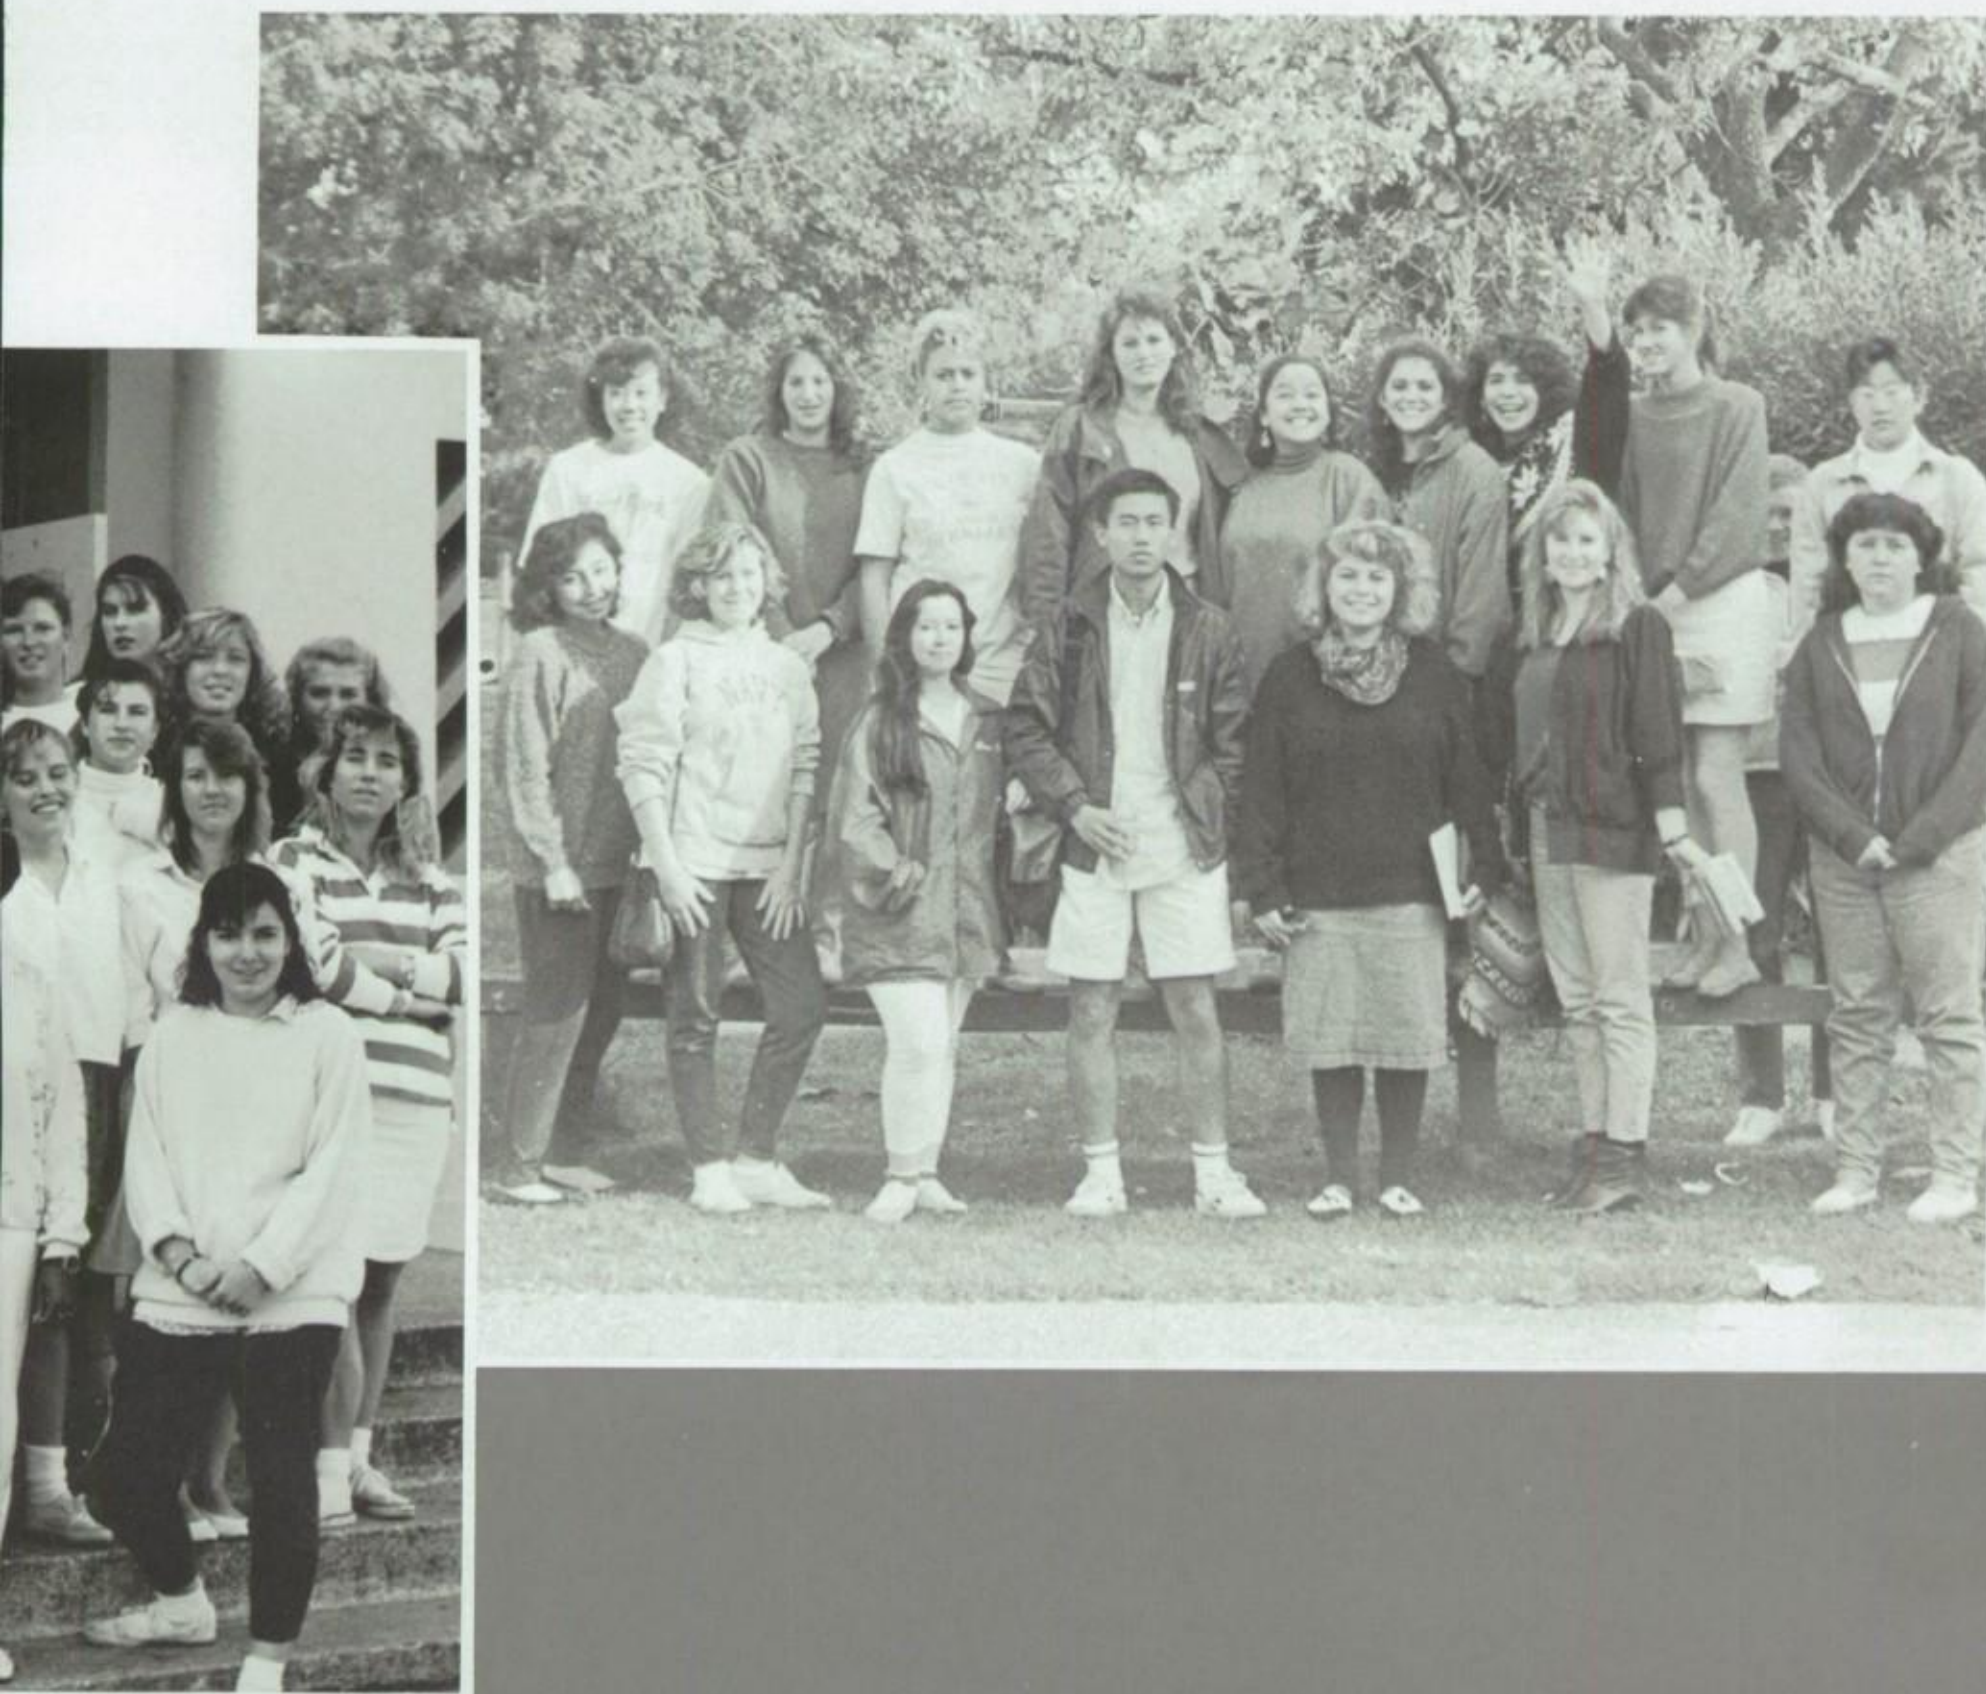

BIG SISTERS

The Service Club has been traditionally the Sophomore gals' club but these recent years, 10th grade guys requested to be in the organization. We couldn't break their little hearts, so the tradition had to be broken!

The members in this club do exactly what the club is called, SERVICE! The activities are such as helping the parents on Back To School Night, Soroptimists' Oktoberfest, and doing the concessions for school activities. (Cougar Follies, Talent Show, and the play). By attending these, members receive points that go towards the next year's Big Sisters. But hopefully before that, the people with highest points will get to work at the Prom!!

SENIOR GIRLS' HONORARY

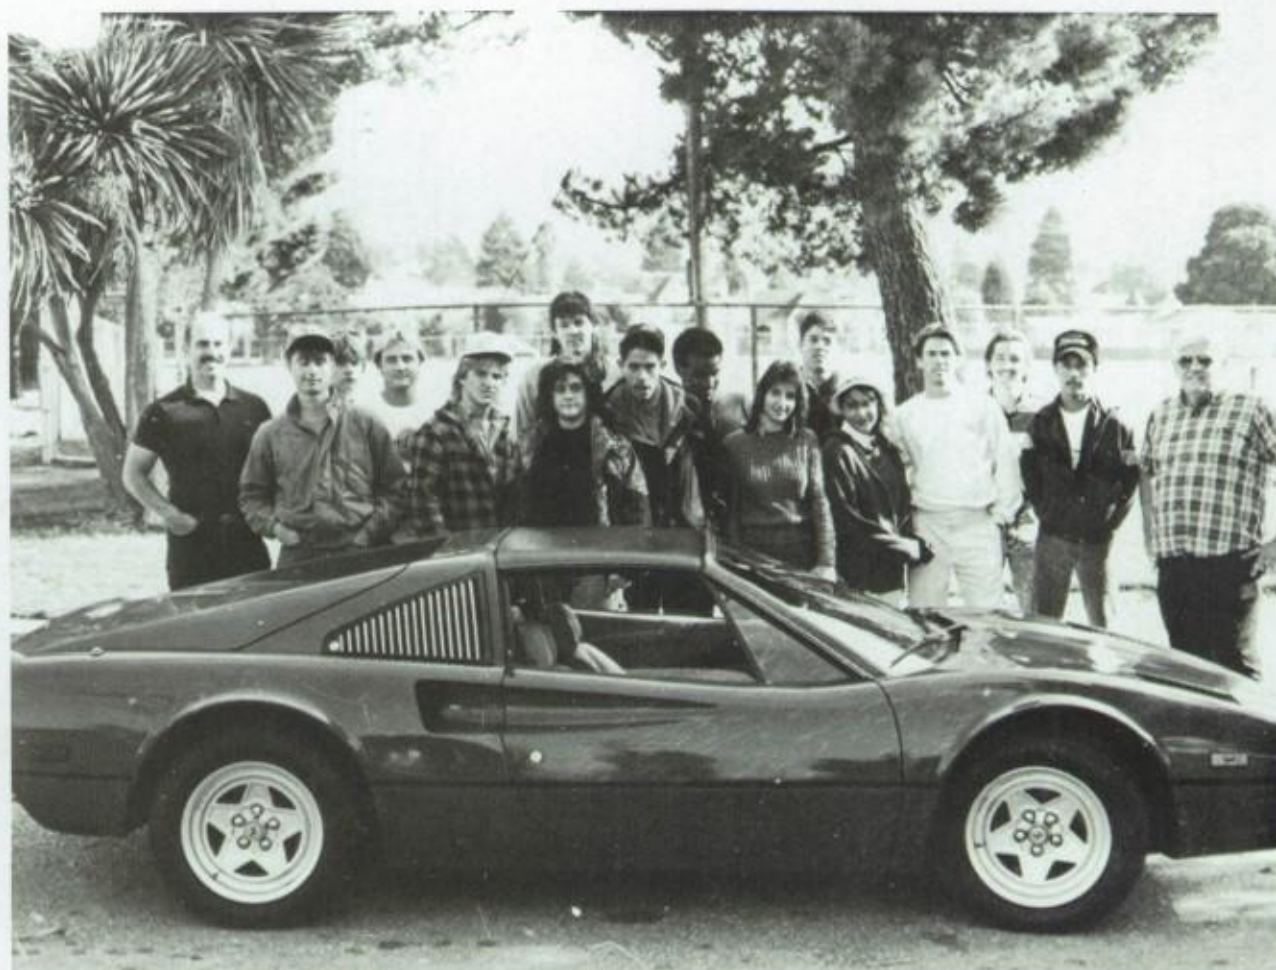

Pres. — Tanir Keret, Vice Pres. — Claudine Woo, Sec./Treas. — Julie Kim, Advisor — Susan Charlip. Members: Nina Carrieri, Anne Clatt, Catherine Sugg, Lella Hornick, Micki Martinez, Grace Paek, Stephanie Russell, Josh Alpert, Eric Mapes, Eileen Farnan, Birdie Chi, Jenny Laird, Genevieve Higgins, Milti Gulton, Cinde McKnight, Tisha, Robyn Sato, D'Angela Purnell, Kim Etzel, Adrienne Olmstead, Thomas Chung, Tammy Markham, Kerri Sampson, Gabi McCombe, Miranda Abrams, Mary Lackey, George Choe, Stephanie Mears, Nathan Perdue, Lisa Wun, Michelle Pender.

Members: President — Jennifer Redick, Vice President — Nicole Chu, Sec./Treas. — Whitney Wilson, Meredith Winer, John Bae, Susanna De La Torre, Debby Kim, Carla Abalos, Michelle Brown, Amy Fleisig, Alex Ridge, Sara Press, Tracy Lohman, Rachel Taylor, Sherry Djanghiri, Kenyatta Webb, Gabby Rigg, Melanie Linebaugh, Miyoko Chu, Neva Keret, Marisa Mariscal, Lillian Tsai, Angie Luna, Jenny Gould.

Senior Girls' Honorary is a club whose members have contributed their services to the Albany community and AHS. They have worked their way through Service club and Big Sisters earning points by participating in various activities. This year the Senior Girls (and the only guy in the club, John Bae) hosted a dinner for the AHS staff. They also contributed their services to elderly homes around the Albany community and orphanages in the San Francisco and L.A. area. This year the Senior Girls worked to earn points to go on their annual and traditional Ski Trip.

AUTO CLUB

Depending on motivation, the club can be very active. In the past the Auto Club has held rallies and had car races, but that was in the past. Of course there are always a few people who are either restoring or building cars . . . just think! This Ferrari was once a Datsun 210!

SKI CLUB

The AHS Ski Club (Rachel Taylor — President, Nathan Perdue — Vice President) is an elite club of Alpine Slope-goers whose love of life includes spending as much of their Christmas vacation, and as many weekends as possible, skiing on Sierra Tahoe mountains. The club basically consists of intermediate and advance skiers, but many joined the club this year as beginners just to see for themselves just how awesome the sport of skiing is. The AHS Ski Club is designed to offer an easy way to get to the slopes, ski with your friends, and meet new people from different schools and towns. This year, unlike the last, snow was more than abundant, so the ski burns here started cuttin' chamagne powder in early December. The club is one of the largest and most popular as AHS, one of the reasons for it's increasing number of members as each year slides by (no pun intended).

PRINT CLUB

PRINT

Members: Cyra Castillo, David Catmull, Pat Foster, Korleen Fisher, Tammy Markham, Danielle McHone, Mike Ellery, Nancy Groom, Brian Parsley, Malinda Pittman, Reid McDonald (Pres.), Ezekiel Stephens (Treasurer). Print Club helps other clubs by printing various projects. This includes printing the school newspaper, programs for plays, candy cards and any other printing needs. Funds generated by the print club are used to purchase computers and software for the school, and to honor our graduating seniors. All advanced print students are automatically members of the Print Club.

HISPANIC CLUB

¿Hablas español? It's okay if you don't understand that, speaking Spanish isn't a requirement for the Hispanic Club. You only have to have a desire to have fun, a craving for Mexican food and perhaps an interest in Latin culture. One quality you might need is that of sales ability since a common sight is an Hispanic clubber pushing Gummi Bears.

Kristin Gan, Seb Frey (Pres.), Kristie Chen, Nicole Harris, Teresa Wu, Nancy Wu, Joyce Huang, Allan Sugarbaker, Columba De La Torre, Debby Kim, Brenda Lee, Helen Chung (Sec.), Micah Franks, Jeffrey Tanaka, Leif Klokkevoid (Treas.), Gabi McCombe, Whitney Wilson, Richard Entenman (Sergeant-at-Arms), Anton Goldman, Cecilia Avalos (V.P.), Cori Hansen, Orion Holcomb, Nina Carrieri, Annie Wu, Carla Abalos, Leila Hornick, Eve Smallfield, Sarah Huang, Myoko Chu, Ivy Chen, Aaron Nakahara, Gabrielle Ruben, Adrienne Olmstead, Ariele Wildwind, Marika Foltz, Eileen Farnan, Enoch Lee, Julie Kim, Annette Kappler, Jennell Provost, John Bae, Susana De la Torre (Tour guide), Advisor — Marilyn Imes.

FRENCH CLUB

The French Club meets every week. They aim to promote French culture by dining in French restaurants or French-colonized restaurants such as Moroccan, Cambodian etc. They also participate in other activities such as viewing French films and art exhibits, or anything to do with the French culture. One of the club's main goals is to raise money through different fund raisers. This money is put into a scholarship for a deserving senior, who in the past has been very involved in the French Department.

Advisor: Patricia Moore. Members: Camilla Saulsbury (Pres.), Helen Chung (V.P.), Martha McGaw (Sec.-Treas.), Tammy Koehler (Publicity Dir.), Gabriella Rigg, Jennell Provost, Aaron Lewis, Peter Chen, Ruth Chen, Jason Reid, Alice Petty, Teell Brito, Aman Panu, Celeria Avalos, Elizabeth Ruebman, Carey Rosenbaum, Paul Woodson, Lisa Guan, Eileen Tsai, Nep Fong, Mory Pender, Mark Choi, Devon Walton, Thuy-Van Nguyen, Linh Nguyen, Daisy Gao, Angela Chen, Carmen Fung, Isabelle Rogin, Amy Hshien, Leila Hornick, Debbie Kim.

AMERICAN FIELD SERVICE

The American Field Service (AFS) promotes cultural understanding by sending and receiving students from different parts of the world. As a club, AFS supports the foreign students who have come here from abroad. Through International days, parties, trips, and Christmas cards, AFS has been active in the community, as well as at AHS. Exchange students this year are, Denis Senuma, from Pretoria, South Africa, and David Gravelle, from Montreal, Canada. Last year, Courtnay Bloomer and Carrie Garlick were exchange students in the Dominican Republic and in Belgium. There were two people overseas in 1987. Brad Jennings, in New Zealand, and Benjy Sikora, in Thailand. They returned in late January. Karen Beals left soon after, early February, to spend a year in Chile.

OUR STUDENTS ABROAD

Brad Jennings

Last February, Brad got on a plane as well, only this one was to New Zealand, Wanganui to be exact! He didn't have as much of a problem with the language as the other exchange students did, but the accent was a little funny at first!

Benjy Sikora

Benjy travelled to Thailand last February, and spent a year there experiencing a totally new culture. Although the language barrier was rough at times, he had a lot of fun.

Annette Kappler

Annette is here this year from Bremen, Germany, for only half of the year. She likes the less aggressive traffic here, but she misses her bike trips to buy fresh bread at home.

STUDENTS AGAINST DRUNK DRIVING

STUDENT ACTION TEAM

Members: Tracy Anderson, John Bae, Ann Cliatt, Lean Du Flor Heide, Jenny Laird, Kristen Perry, Tiffany Ringgold, Vincent Walker, Whitni Wilson.

The Student Action Team is a group of students that got together in the spring of the 1987 school year, with the common concern of drug abuse. Their main goal is not to conform students, but to inform them of the potential hazards of drug use. They feel that after students have been shown the straight facts about drugs that they will be better prepared to make decisions regarding their own drug use. They try to provide other alternatives to drug use.

THEATER CLUB

The Theater Club meets occasionally at lunch to improvise and basically have a lot of fun. The members go to ACT and Berkeley Rep to see professional plays and try to keep cool even when people stand behind them. (see picture)

Members: P. Woodson (pres.), Orion Halecomb (vice pres.), Deborah Yamasaki (secretary), Cindy Wun (treasurer), Lelf Klokkevold, Allan Sugarbaker, Shanta Frantz, Corey Rosenbaum, Lily Quach, Isabelle Rogin, Lilia Rosas, Samantha Starr, Caroline Hoffman, Ryan MacArthur, Lillian Tsai, Celine Avalos, Aman Panu, Jennell Provost.

MATH CLUB

The Math Club is open to all who are interested in advancing their math skills and to expand their knowledge. Members participate in Bay Area Mathletes, Cal-Poly Invitational, Univ. of S.C. math competition, California Mathematics League, American Scholastic Math Association.

TENNIS CLUB

The Tennis Club is created for those who appreciate the sport. A ranking system is used for those who would like to challenge one another. In spring time, they set up tennis tournaments with schools such as El Cerrito and Berkeley High. Members also get together to watch professional tournaments such as the Virginia Slims and the Transamerica.

BIKE CLUB

The Bike Club meets in room 213 on Wednesdays — weather permitting, to discuss the plans for the weekly rides. Anyone with a bike is welcome to become involved with a fantastic group of aficionados. Our rides are for the experienced as well as the inexperienced and vary in distance from 5 to 35 miles on a good day.

Members: Foe Zeits, Eric Gray, Leila Hornick, Jennell Provost, Diana Ellerbusch, Scott Turtle, Allan Sugarbaker, Orion Holcomb, Aaron Draper, Leif Klokkevold, I-Chieh Huang, Mark Honer, Reid McDonald, Nicole Hall, Suzanna de la Torre, Jacob Lewis, Matt Husser.

Members: Edwin Lim, Aaron Draper, Mike Ellery, Jason Fink, Joe Zeits, Scottie Caparros, Deborah Yamasaki, Susana De La Torre, Jennell Provost, Leila Hornick, Eric Gray.

CO-ED VOLLEYBALL

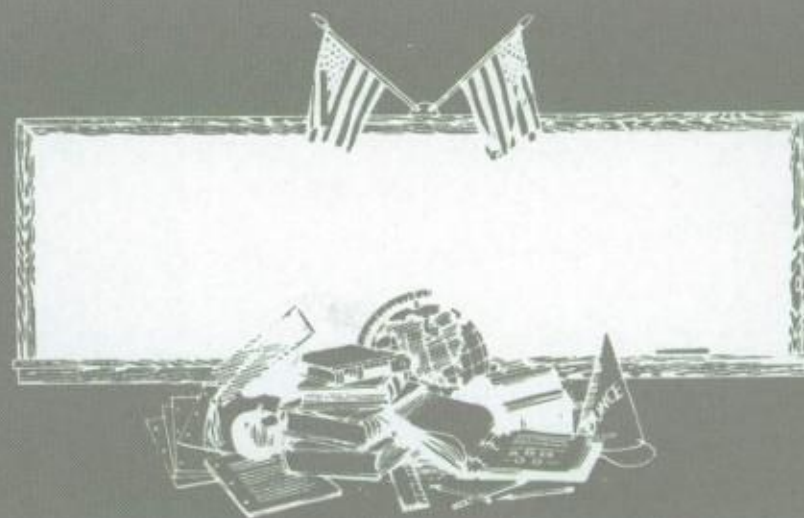

The Co-ed Volleyball club was organized so that students would be able to practice this exciting sport. The club is open to all interested students and whenever there is enough people, they just have fun.

BLACK STUDENT UNION

Members: President: K. Webb, Vice President: V. Walker, T. Abdulah, C. Taylor, W. Wilson, S. Wise, D. Senuma, D. Robinson, C. Mosley, M. Mouton, J. Davis, M. Brown, N. Harris, R. Alexander, E. Dyce, K. Whitehead, K. Sims, P. Butler, S. Sykes, T. Singleton, S. Ashford, Z. Harris, A. Johnson, B. Aaron, R. Green, C. Eaton, T. Wace, K. Fortune, T. Anderson, S. Hunt, J. Mumphy.

The Black Student Union is a club that tries to create an awareness of the black culture through diverse activities and assemblies (i.e. Black History Month). The club represents a large percentage of the black student body at A.H.S. and enjoys having fun. The B.S.U. was involved in many activities such as Martin Luther King Jr. Day's Drive for black orphanages, candy sales, and an end-of-the-year trip.

ASIAN STUDENT ASSOCIATION

The purpose of the ASU is to spread Asian culture to all those who are interested and the club's focus is on revealing one's culture to one's self. The club participated in Chinese New Year, Cherry Blossom Festival, Potlucks, going to Asian movies, and various trips to Asian related places.

Members are: I. Chan, K. Chen, P. Chen, S. Chen, P. Cheng, M. Chu, A. Chung, M. Ellery, K. Gan, L. Guan, N. Harris, C. Hoffman, J. Huang, S. Huang, A. Kappler, A. Kuo, B. Lee, A. Nakahara, L. Tsal, S. Wleiman, A. Wu, T. Wu, D. Yamasaki.

KOREAN STUDENT UNION

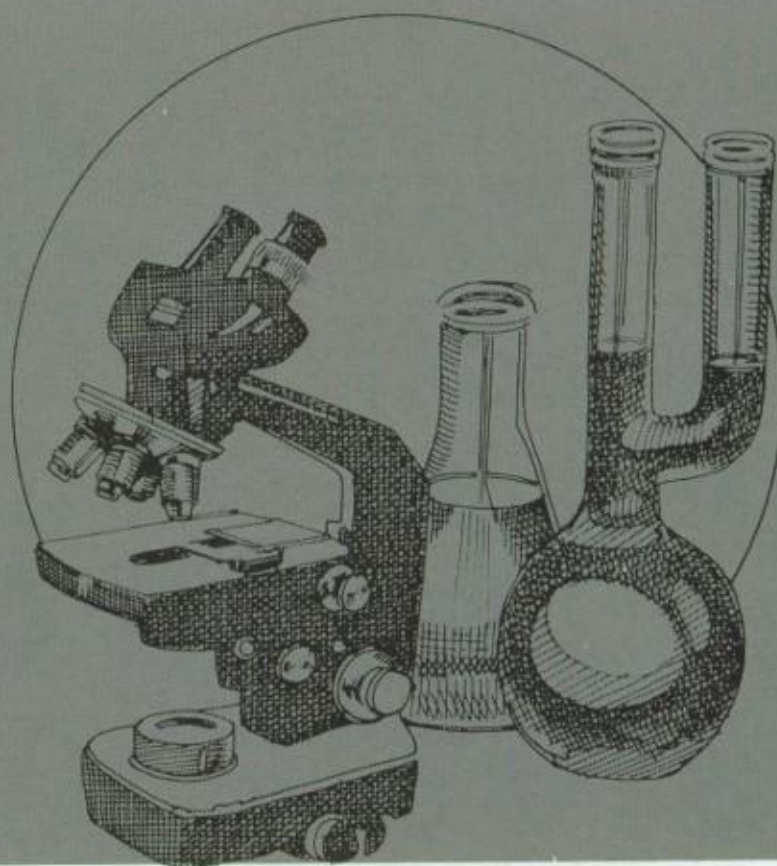

This is the first year the Korean Student Union has been here at A.H.S. Though they have just begun, they started the year with gusto. Such activities they have participated in have been things like Food Day which they sold Korean Cuisine. They did a good job in establishing Korean culture throughout A.H.S. Let's hope for continued success in the years to come at Albany High.

CHEMISTRY CLUB

The Chemistry Club is the largest club of Albany High. With the number of members exceeding one hundred, there are plenty of activities for everyone. The activities include: Santa Cruz trips, ski trips, and chemathon; they have a lot of fun participating in each one of them.

A.H.S. BAND AND FLAGGIES ARE . . .

Nicole Chu, Maria Delgado, Allison Harada, Vicki Hughes, Charley Kim, Matt Tsang, Ann Bailey, Marty Bandvik, Tom Belsky, Sam Benson, Julian Fix, Amy Flesig, Lesly Hall, Sarah Huang, Leif Klokkevold, Esther Paek, Dan Rabin, Timothy Romaln, Cristina Rutte, Catherine Sobey, Margaret Sumisaki, Viva Taylor, Annie Wu, Matthew Zisman, Annette Kappler, Yuki Zerdick, Alex Zerdick, Paul Wagner, Shirley Chen, Chris Weber, Angel Kuo, Madi Kampron, Sabrina Kresge, Reggie Hightower, Richard Rios.

There were lots of new faces in the Albany High School Band this year. One of the most noticeable was the band director, Mr. Sandy "the Hep Cat" Schafer. Not only did he bring new life into the band, but the band members really like him. "One of the best things about Mr. Schafer," says Marty Bandvik, a saxophonist, "is that he is really with it." Senior Sam Benson, drum major, says, "He lets us choose our own music. Before, our music was chosen for us. Now we really like playing." And their enthusiasm shines through as the Cougar Band steps forward with the most spirited marching and music yet.

This year's short flags are really putting their best foot forward — in every possible aspect. The students are reaping the rewards of a highly spirited and incredibly talented mixture of sophomores, juniors, and seniors. Even without the help of last year's tall flags, our flaggies are really giving us all they've got and coming through with some of the best routines Albany High has ever seen!

... FOREVER ON BEAT!

Short Flags: Jennifer Redick — head; Melanie Linebaugh — co-head; Esther Bae, Karen Beals, Nicole Chu, Rachel Hitchcock, Viki Hughes, Claudine Woo, Annie Wu.

THE BIRTH OF THE BLUES

"We have a lot of exciting people!" Sandy Shafer breathlessly commented in the midst of a jazz band rehearsal. After a slow beginning, rhythm and blues finally returned to A.H.S. The turn out was minimal at the start of the year, but as the first quarter completed, attendance was increased. Shafer planned many "thrilling events" for the year, such as: a jazz festival, and many public performances. Look out Duke Ellington — here comes the Albany High Jazz Band!

Jazz Band Members (In alphabetical order): Nathan Bartolome, Sam Benson, Kevin Campbell, Nicole Chu, Maria Delgado, Peter Goldman, Lesley Hall, Shawn Horseman, Kim Chung Hoon, Chris Jensen, Sabrina Kresge, Melanie Linebaugh, Tim Ro, main, Viva Taylor, Paul Wagner, Alex Zerdick.

For Maria and Nicole, concentration is the key to good music.

Emotion takes over as Melanie plucks out the blues.

THE MUSIC'S PLAYED BY THE MADMAN

The orchestra is made up of a group of hardworking musicians. They rehearse both during seventh period and during lunch. During the lunch session, many students that were unable to fit seventh period orchestra in their schedules come to practice. This dedication resulted in an exciting orchestra schedule this year. Numerous members participated in concerto performances, and concerts were given where small ensembles presented their pieces. The orchestra also attended an orchestra festival. The talent of the orchestra members goes beyond school. Many students are part of other musical groups, such as the Bay Area Wind Symphony and other youth orchestras.

Choir is back! Last year Albany High School's choir was cut because of lack of funds. This year we had an enthusiastic group of students and choral director, Mr. Larsen. His goal for this year was to rebuild the choir group and teach everyone to sing well. Choral classes were held second and third periods. Some students chose to take the class on their off-lab days third period, three times a week.

Choir was very involved this year. They participated in the musical, for the first time in three years. Choir also performed in a Christmas and Spring concert. They also sang for the Rotary Club throughout the year.

Officers this year were: Ana Paula Rodrigues — President, Joannie Albee — Vice President, Sam Starr — Sec./Treasury and Tim Starr — Librarian.

It's so hard to get old without a cause
I don't want to perish like a fading horse
Youth's like diamonds in the sun
And diamonds are forever

THE YOUNG AND

CHEERLEADERS

Spirit flourished through the '87-'88 cheering and pep squads. Both squads got together at the end of the school year and practiced hard throughout the summer. During the games the cheerleaders supported the teams, while the pep squad did the same for the spectators in the stands. No matter what the outcome of the games, they still stayed optimistic and raised the spirit in all the students. Stephanie Russell, head cheerleader, said, "Our main goal was to boost spirit at A.H.S. and this year it really worked."

PEP SQUAD

Members are: Lisa Wun, founder, Miranda Abrams, Nina Carrieri, Meridee Carter, Leslie Flynn, Alison Harada, Jessica Hill, Katie McNenny, Leighann Schreyvogel.

This year's football team didn't break any records, but as they say, the point of the game is to have fun. For those who were stuck on the injured list, it may not have been that all the time, but when they were out there, they gave it their all, and that counts for a lot.

This year's volleyball teams were two of the best we have ever seen at this school. The JV team had a great season, showing off some great stuff which shows promise for next year. The Varsity team got further than any other team we've ever had. Through hard battles they managed to win the North Coast Sectional Title. Congratulations, gals!!!

CAN YOU IMAGINE WHEN

Members are: Damon Anderson, John Beck, Aaron Draper, Jason Fink, Orton Holcomb, Mark Honer, I-Chieh Huang, Reza Javandel, Lelf Klokkevold, Reid McDonald, Mark Mullarkey, Jason Strange, Matt Stone, Paul Woodson, Maria Delgado, Andre Mullarkey, Meredith Nettles.

THIS RACE IS WON?

Farid coming in from behind.

This year, the Albany cross-country team ran two to three mile courses through various parks, local and distant. The runners worked well as a team, trying to make up for the loss of last year's graduates. Under Coach Fred Brill, they ran to five miles at practice and competed against the state's best running clubs.

The boys' team showed great initiative, despite average faring at Frogtown and Bear River. Although the girls' team had only three members this year, they won medals at Frogtown and showed true spirit.

Occasionally, Albany looked pretty sharp. At Crystal Springs, a 40-team meet in which seven of the top teams in California were competing, Albany took sixth place in the Championship Varsity race. At Standford, everybody had to run over three miles in 105 degree weather . . . on a golf course. The runners put in a good two months of exercise this year; most of them are new and will return next year — for more fun, fitness, and competition.

JR. VARSITY

SMASHING THROUGH

The 1987-88 version of Cougar Basketball featured the return of three starting varsity lettermen. Seniors Doug Bailey and Ben Kavanaugh returned along with Junior Josh Alpert. Moving up from the Junior Varsity of last year were Seniors Marvin Anthony and Neal Bidleman. Underclassmen moving up from JV's were Junior Eric Mapes, and Sophomores Scott Markham and Donald Toomer. The Coug's welcomed Senior Trevor Tapscott, Junior Lawrence Tantoco and Sophomore Leronne Armstrong to the hoopin' crew.

Albany was again the East Shore Athletic League, the strongest competition in the East Bay. In terms of league standing, the coug's were competitive and played with a lot of heart, but had a tough time battling the East Bay's best teams. The team did not win many league games, however, they were known throughout the league as a team that played with pride, character, and dignity regardless of the score.

During the pre-season, the Coug's played 50/50 basketball winning 6 and losing 6 along the way. Doug Bailey lead the team in scoring an average 15 pts. and rebounding 7 per game. In scoring, Ben Kavanagh and Josh Alpert were tied for second place averaging 10.0 pts. per game. The returning players were followed closely by Trevor Tapscott 8.6 ppg. and Marvin Anthony at 6.5 ppg. Sophomores Leronne Armstrong and Donald Toomer chipped in at 5.2 ppg. The Cougs played an exciting brand of team basketball featuring the crisp passing of Leronne Armstrong with 47 assists, followed by Josh Alpert with 25, Scott Markham with 25, Doug Bailey and Trevor Tapscott with 21 a piece. The 1987-88 version of Cougar Basketball was competitive and aggressive. In terms of a win/loss record, the team came out on the short side. However, in the long run, what they did find was show what they were made of inside — 11 guys with a lot of heart and determination. Congratulations Albany Basketball!

"COUGARETTES" TEAR

"This has been a learning season not only for the Girls' J.V. Basketball team but also one for myself. I see a lot of potential in the girls on the team, and it's my job as their coach to help in their development on the court, as well as off. Hopefully they have learned that basketball is just a game and that life is their real challenge. A good education over a winning season is much more fulfilling in the long run."

'EM IN THE DUST!

Too cool, gals!

This year's Track Team definitely had its share of stars. At the beginning of the season, half of the team was expected to go on to the state competitions. Some of these were: the girls' 440 relay team, the boys' mile relay team, Dan Newson in the 100 meter, and 200 meter run, Tiffany Ringgold in the hurdles, and Zania Harris in the 100 meter and 200 meter run. Although those were just some of the hopefuls, the whole team really enjoyed themselves during practices and meets. They also got along really well with their coach, Carl Sumler, who they playfully called Gus.

"He really cares about the athletes and gives everyone 100% support," said team member Tiffany Ringgold.

Overall, the whole team was just out to have a great time.

Why do I feel like I'm not getting anywhere?

The idea of having a soccer team at Albany was not new this year, but because of a lack of funding, the idea was never pursued. This fall, however, Albany received a $60,000 grant that was to be used to fund programs. After the money had been approved, the next step was to find the needed players and a coach.

Prospected players came out in full force yet coaches seemed hard to come by. For weeks the word had been out that the team needed a coach but no one answered the request. Finally about three days before practice started, Constantine Konstine came forth and became Albany's first official soccer coach. He had coached the Grizzlies 18 and under team for Berkeley and is very respected.

Practice started with 50 potential players including a few very determined women. Eventually people began to drop from the team until it reached a permanent 30 member squad.

The program is still fresh and some of the players have never played together before. They are still coming together but there is a lot of potential. It will be interesting to see how Albany soccer continues to grow.

TENNIS ANYONE?

Tennis Team 87-88

The '87 Tennis team had a great season. They were a lively, entergetic and spirited team. Each player was dedicated to the sport and played with much enthusiasm. Although they did have competition this year playing against schools such as Piedmont, 7-0, St. Joseph ND, 5-2, and Encinal, 4-3, they went to the tournaments in San Leandro in Cherry Grove Park. Mr. Choy, a teacher at Albany High was their coach. Not only does the sport take a great deal of seriousness, all the players seemed to have a great time and enjoyed each other.

Tracy Nguyen, AHS's star player, went through the regular season with only one loss against Bishop O'Dowd's #1 singles (which Tracy avenged by beating O'Dowd twice later in the season). Tracy is now the leagues champion by virtue of winning the league tournament. In the tournament she beat Piedmont (7-6 tie-breaker, 6-2) and O'Dowd (6-3; 6-3). She is the first in Albany to be sent to the north Coast Tournament.

So many adventures couldn't happen today
So many songs we forgot to play
So many dreams swinging out of the blue
We'll let them come true

JUNIORS

This year's juniors, the class of 89, have really got it together. In addition to the fact that their Homecoming float massacred all the others, their lawn and hall were more creatively decorated than Albany High has seen in many years. The senior class also feels good about this junior class, they know that the prom will be successful since it's in the hands of such capable and hard-working students.

SOPHOMORES

This year's Sophomores, the class of 90, seemed as though they needed a little help when Homecoming came around, however the upperclassmen were too busy with their own preparations to lend a hand. This class lacks nothing in the area of togetherness, however. Throughout the halls and courtyard the groups of Sophomores can be seen huddling together and finding all of what they need in their own classmates. We wish them the best in their toughest years of high school which lie ahead.

... AND EVER

In closing, we would like you to know who worked so hard this year in making this edition of the COUGAR the best ever. This year's staff started out with no credit, no advisor, no equipment. Just the old Home Ec room, 132, in which to meet in each day, seventh period. But by November, we had class credit, a new advisor (Susan Wong), and the beginnings of a darkroom.

This year's staff consisted of Susan Wong, Advisor; Meredith Winer, Editor-In-Chief; Marisa Mariscal, Financial Manager; Neva Keret, Darkroom Manager; Sara Press, Photo Manager, Tanir Keret, Staff Supervisor; Tracy Lohman, Computer Specialist; and the hardest-working group of people ever seen as the COUGAR staff: Shannon Askins, Nina Carrieri, Birdie Chi, I-Chieh Huang, Tammy Kaeler, Jenny Laird, Angela Pruitt, Tom Richardson, Alex Ridge, and Matt Tsang.

Top Row: Tom, Neva, Matt. 2nd Row: Tanir, Meredith, Nina, Sara, Tracy. 3rd Row: Susan, Tammy, Jenny. Bottom Row: I-chieh, Angela, Shannon, Marisa, Birdie.

- A. Tracy's cookin' on her layout!
- B. "Wait . . . you mean I'm not really on the Yearbook Staff?"
- C. "Hey guys, I know we're having fun and all, but there are two 'shady' characters following us."
- D. "We don't care if they didn't come out, we aren't taking Band pictures over again!"
- E. ". . . oh yeah, and God, please let us make our deadline . . ."
- F. "Ooh! Ooh! I can't see! See what the seniors' tiny copy did?!!"

We, the COUGAR '88 staff, would like to give our most sincere thanks to the following people:

- Nicole Chu
- Jason Fitchen
- Chris Francis
- Gabriella Rigg
- Paul Woodson
- Wally Choy
- Dave Dehart
- John Thomsen
- Mary Wallman
- Bev Wanlin
- Dave Daly

Thank you for your part in helping to put together the COUGAR '88, Forever Red, Forever Young!

IN MEMORY
ERIC VOLZ '90

So much happened
in my life, to me,
in me ~~and~~ this year. Almost none of it is reflected in this book. Each impacting significant memory
overwhelms me now
and makes me sad.
My body feels like it
does before you break down crying. I can't record all of it. I don't really believe I will remember it all. ~~but~~ I just want to, in some way, document
it here.

Wow
The first signature on the page. What an honor!
I can't say, haven't seen much of you this year.
a whole lot of next year, huh. You'll
May be not going all so boarding school too.
We'll see you around.
Love,
Adam Ridge
